CITIES, STORE DEFY WLB ON LABOR POLICY

Power of Board at Stake In Battle With Municipalities and Montgomery Ward.

NEW YORK WILL FIGHT

Local Governments Ready To Resist Attempt to Control Employe Relations.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Its broad power at stake, the embattled war labor board today was being defied by both private and public employers.

In one case, Montgomery Ward and company continued to resist a WLB order which demanded immediate signing of a "union security" contract with the CIO's United Retail Employes union.

In another, the WLB held advance warning that the city governments of Newark and New York city, and possibly others, would fight any attempt on the part of the federal board to control their labor relations.

The fate of the huge Montgomery Ward mail order firm continued to hang in the balance while board members flatly asserted that they would "go to the White House" unless the company conceded to their demands within a few hours.

Members offered as explanation for their delay in taking proposed drastic action their wish to give Sewell Avery, president of the company, a "reasonable time" in which to comply.

After Avery's representatives in Washington rejected a final and formal WLB request, Board Chairman William H. Davis wrote to Avery personally demanding compliance at once.

Although other WLB members said Avery would have but a few hours to sign, Davis, when questioned, refused to say what was meant by the term "reasonable time."

Informed labor sources, however, set Friday noon as the deadline for compliance by the defiant firm, but neither labor nor WLB officials could give any hint of what action the White House might take.

Despite the announced opposi-

Enroll 18'ers Tomorrow at Draft Boards

Those Who Reached 18 After Last June 30 to Register.

Registration of approximately 200 Mansfield and Richland county youths, a part of the nation's half-million who have had their 18th birthday since last June 30, will begin tomorrow at the three selective service boards of the county.

Although they had no definite method of calculating how many such boys were eligible for registration, local board clerks predicted their figures would probably be: about 100 from Board 1, 125 from Board 2 and 75 from Board 3.

The first group to be listed will be those born during the months of July and August, 1924, who will be registered from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily from tomorrow morning until Dec. 17.

Those having September and October birthdays will register at similar hours commencing Dec. 18 and continuing until Dec. 24.

November and December's youths will register from Dec. 26 to Dec. 31 while those born on or after Jan. 1 will be registered on the day they attain their 18th anniversary, provided that if the date falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, registration shall take place on the next day following.

Since the area covered by Board 3 is large and would entail much driving if all the youths were required to come to the draft board office for registration, auxiliary registration centers have been named in various communities but will be open only on the final registration date December 30.

They are located in the Shelby city building, the Earl Heininger residence in Butler, the Ralph Lutz residence in Lexington, the township house in Shiloh, the Lucas bank, and an unannounced location in Bellville. Youths in these localities do not have to register in their home communities, but may come on the dates scheduled to the draft board office.

The order in which the 18-year-old youths will be classified for induction will be determined by their birth dates with the oldest coming first.

Ang 18 or 19-year-old registrant attending high school who is ordered to report for induction during the last half of the academic year may have his induction postponed until the end of that year upon written request to his draft board.

CUT IN HALF

1943 Pack of Canned Fruits Split With War Units.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The war production board today ordered approximately one-half of the 1943 pack of popular canned fruits, vegetables, and juices set aside for purchase for the armed forces, lend lease, and other government agencies, thus reducing the supply available to civilians substantially below pre-war levels.

In 1942, canners were required to set aside about 35 per cent of their pack for the government.

The order also applies to processors of frozen, dried, dehydrated, pickled, preserved, and other non-perishable products. Previously, it applied only to canned foods.

Deadline Friday For Addresses of Those In Service

This is for parents and relatives of Mansfield men in the armed forces—are you sure the correct address of your man (or woman) in the service is available so that the Dec. 13 edition of The News-Journal—with the names of 9,000 Pearl Harbor Day war bond buyers will reach him?

One hundred such addresses have been sent to The News-Journal via the coupon which has appeared the last two days and which appears again today on Page 3.

Two thousand more addresses have been taken from the records of the Richland Victory Civic committee, plus several hundred more obtained from other sources.

If you aren't sure that the latest address of your service man is available, fill out the coupon appearing today—right now—and see that it reaches The News-Journal no later than Friday.

The Richland Victory Civic committee is preparing the mailing list now, and will check closely to avoid duplication.

Make sure the correct address reaches the committee, through The News-Journal.

City Gets Fire Pumps for Defense

Mansfield's fire department is now in possession of two auxiliary booster pumps allocated to the city for civilian defense purposes. Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger is shown here inspecting the Army-colored equipment that arrived yesterday from the Chrysler Motor company plant. Each pump is capable of producing 400 pounds of pressure. Several more pumps have been earmarked for use here, civilian defense officials said.

Fire Booster Pumps Arrive, Chief Needs Wheels, Tires

"Wanted—wagon wheels and beds, steel rims or rubber tires. Address Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger, Mansfield, Ohio."

This adds up to meaning that the city's fire department has received two of the auxiliary booster pumps allocated to Mansfield for civilian defense purposes. The Army-colored equipment arrived yesterday from the Chrysler Motor company plant.

Mounted on skids at present, the equipment could be towed as sleds in an emergency, Seeburger said, but it is preferable to mount them on wheeled carriages. The pumps are equipped with six-cylinder marine engines capable of producing 400 pounds pressure. This, according to Seeburger, would force a water stream to the top of most of Mansfield's business blocks.

Several additional pumps have been earmarked for use here by the regular fire departments and the civilian defense auxiliary unit, according to Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, defense co-ordinator. Some of those still due will be smaller than the two on hand, it is said.

Those received yesterday measure approximate six feet in length four feet in width and five feet in height, as overall dimensions. They remain the property of the U. S. government and are carried on memorandum receipt issued to Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff as government property officer for the defense organization.

Ask Those In Non-War Jobs To Volunteer for Training

Listing a number of types of work as "unessential" to the war effort, C. W. Handley, director of the United States Employment service in Richland county today appealed to persons in those categories to volunteer training for war jobs, to fill the need for skilled war plant workers both outside and within Mansfield.

There were an estimated 10,000 men between the ages of 18 and 65 in Mansfield who were engaged in activities not essential to the war effort when manpower questionnaires went out to 26,000 men in Mansfield early this year, Handley said.

He said that a great many of these have since taken jobs in war industries .t added that there still is a large reservoir of potential war labor in Mansfield.

He urged those in occupations not essential to the war effort to register for training either at the USES or at the vocational department at Senior high school. Women were also urged to apply.

With reference to this appeal he estimated that in the 18-65 age group there are some 160 men now in clerical positions who could volunteer for war job training.

In addition, he said, there are a great number of the employes of the 82 filling stations which were in operation in Mansfield at the time the manpower survey was taken, as well as workers in auto service and sales agencies, architects and building firms, brokers and traveling salesmen who probably are available for more necessary positions. Housewives, too, will be used to recruit industry's ranks, he predicted.

The great number of the men in these "non-essential" jobs do not have a skill needed by the defense industries, he pointed out, but may have latent talents that could quickly be developed by courses of training such as those offered at Mansfield Senior high school, under the direction of V. H Oberlander, vocational coordinator.

Others who already have a skill could qualify for better positions after having taken "brush-up" courses, Handley said. Shop courses progress as rapidly as the individual is able to master the work, Oberlander pointed out, stating further that enrollment in such courses is open at any time.

Although the greater number of calls for workers are received from industries outside of the city, Handley said he expects Mansfield plants to call for more workers in the months to come.

Placement of trained workers will be made through the Unemployment Service and the Civil Service commission, which has a wide range of openings for both men and women.

Wallace Claims 'Quart of Milk-a-Day' Speech Twisted

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON -- Vice President Henry A. Wallace today charged that critics of his post-war views had "willfully distorted" his statement about making it possible for everyone in the post-war world to drink a quart of milk a day.

He explained in an interview with the United Press that his statement was only a literary phrase—that he had no desire to force milk down the throats of those who do not like milk or to reform the diets of foreign peoples.

"I used the statement," he said, "as a symbol of a higher living standard. It seemed to me to be one that would be easily understood, but some people have wilfully distorted it.

"Occasionally someone says that I favor giving a quart of milk to every inhabitant of the world. What I favor is an opportunity for the millions who are fighting for freedom to increase their own productivity and enjoy the blessings of a higher standard of living."

The controversial statement was made by Wallace in a speech to the Free World association in New York last May 8. He described the present war as a people's revolution and said of milk:

"Half in fun and half seriously, I said the other day to Madame Litvinov (wife of the Soviet ambassador Maxim Litvinov): 'The object of this war is to make sure that everybody in the world has the privilege of drinking a quart of milk a day.' She replied: 'Yes, even a half pint'."

That statement has been severely criticized. Wallace did not refer by name to those who have attacked that statement. But the

WICKARD EYES FARM PRODUCE NEED FOR '43

Declares Military, Lend-Lease To Take Quarter of Entire American Production.

SEES ALL-OUT YEAR

Secretary of Agriculture Says Civilians To Get Smaller Food Variety.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, declaring that "we are on the offensive," estimated today that military and lend-lease requirements next year will take one-fourth of America's total production.

Figuring that military and lend-lease requirements will be half again as large in 1943 as in 1942, Wickard wrote in the Army and Navy Journal that "offensive war means that we must meet vastly greater needs, for food as for the other materials of war."

"American farmers know this," Wickard declared. "That's why the nation can depend on them to produce up to the limit of their resources.

Wickard said that "it now appears that 1943 will be an all-out year for every phase of our war program," and the forecast that food requirements of both America's armed forces and those of its allies will be "large" and "likely will grow as the war progresses."

The agriculture secretary also observed that American farm production "must anticipate the possible freeing of subjugated nations and the feeding of peoples whose larders have been stripped bare by the Nazis."

"Since we must first meet the requirements of our fighting forces and of our allies," Wickard asserted, "some foods will be available for civilians in lesser amounts than normal, and we will not have the great variety of foods we have always enjoyed.

"For example, meat will be available in reasonable amounts, but not in the quantities civilians would like to buy it.

"There will be less canned fruits and vegetables, and smaller amounts of some dairy products.

SMASH BARBER SHOP WINDOWS

Bricks Thrown at Two Places, Proprietors Blame Lower Rates For Attacks.

Police and deputy sheriffs today were investigating attacks by vandals on two barber shops last night in Mansfield and Lincoln Heights which officers and the shop proprietors blamed on a "price war."

Steve Gerber, proprietor of a shop in the Haring apartments, 151 West Third street, reported to police that three bricks were thrown at his shop windows about 11 p. m. Wednesday. Eugene Ulng, caretaker at the building, said he saw four men in a green car at the scene of the attack. Three window panes were smashed.

In Lincoln Heights, two windows in a shop operated by O. B. Wheaton at Ashland road and Michigan avenue, were smashed by bricks. Residents of the community said they heard a crash about 11:30 p. m.

Both shops have been charging less than the union rate in Mansfield for haircuts, proprietors said.

Renews Drive to Get 1,000 Tons Of Farm Scrap

A renewed drive for all the available scrap iron in Richland county, especially on farms, had been launched today in view of the dwindling collections from the county area.

Estimating that at least 1,000 tons of scrap metal could be found on county farms, A. E. Pence of the public works administration, appealed to farm owners to sell their scrap to the government so that the steel mills can be kept operating at capacity.

Pence is in charge of the collection in Richland county rural districts and will send men and trucks to any part of the county to pick up scrap. He can be contacted at the Brunswick hotel. Also taking calls from persons with scrap to turn in is Carl L. Stough, chairman of the county salvage committee.

Pence said his men will dismantle old farm equipment on farms, permitting the owners to save vital repair parts. Owners of the scrap will receive reasonable compensation for it.

An example of what many county farmers can do to help in the war program was cited by Pence who said that a search of the Frank Zwilling farm near

British Resuming Offensive on Nazis Along Libya Front

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(INS)—President Roosevelt summoned the military high command to the White House today for an up-to-the-minute report on the progress of the American campaigns and also to plan new offensives against the Axis on all parts of the globe.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Reuters quoted the Morocco radio today as saying that the British army had resumed its offensive in Libya against the Axis forces yesterday, attacking German and Italian positions near El Agheila.

British sources in London said they had no confirmation of the report, however.

The Allied and German armies in Tunisia were reported probing cautiously for weak spots in each other's lines with both sides feverishly speeding preparations for the crucial battle that may explode at any moment.

Advices from the front last night, however, said the weather was unfavorable for large-scale land or air action and it appeared that for the moment, at least, the key to the situation lay in the hands of the elements.

These advices said the latest operations were limited to patrol skirmishes, marked by tentative British and American thrusts at the Axis defenses on the outer approaches to Bizerte and Tunis.

There was little in these reports to indicate how the situation was shaping up, but there appeared reason to believe that the Allies were making use of the lull to overcome the deficiency in air strength from which they obviously have been suffering in the forward areas.

A Reuters dispatch from North Africa said that fresh units of the United States and

American Fighters Striking Closer Toward Buna In New Guinea

(By International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—Complete occupation of the Gona mission area of New Guinea by Allied jungle fighters who crushed a last desperate attempt by the Japanese to escape from a pocket in which they were trapped was officially announced today.

Capture of Gona by Australian forces after a lengthy siege left Buna, 14 miles to the southeast, the sole remaining foothold of the Japanese in the Papua territory.

American troops, according to latest reports from the front, simultaneously made new inroads against the beleaguered Japs at Buna.

Announcement of the fall of Gona was made by Prime Minister John Curtin in an address to the Australian parliament at Canberra.

As the Aussie and American troops pressed their drives to push the Japs into the sea Allied fliers ranged out over Japheld New Britain island to smash another 10 Nipponese planes.

The Jap planes were knocked out of the air by formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators when a force of more than 15 Zeros attempted to intercept them over southeast New Britain. The big American bombers engaged the Japs in the sub-stratosphere for nearly an hour in a heated dogfight. Two of the Zeros were sent down in flames and another four damaged and it is not believed those were able to reach their base.

The tremendous concentration of Allied fire-power directed against the enemy formations forced the Japs to pour in reinforcing fighters and probably disrupted a whole squadron.

The New Britain fight took

HURT IN BATTLE

Richard Taylor, 21, Mansfield Seaman, Wounded.

Second Mansfield seaman reported wounded in the Solomon Islands battle in November, Richard Franklin Taylor, 21, is in a hospital in the Southwest Pacific area, he said in a letter which has just reached his mother, Mrs. P. F. Taylor, 104 West First street.

Taylor wrote the letter, leading his mother to believe he was not seriously wounded.

Taylor, seaman second class, had been stationed on the U.S.S. South Dakota. Former Westinghouse employe, he enlisted in the navy last April 6.

Sheldon Perrine, 21, another Mansfield sailor, was reported wounded in the same battle. He is the son of Mrs. Pearl Perrine, 534 Woodland avenue.

DEATH BLOW: RAF Pours More Bombs on Mangled Turin

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Striking with even greater power than the previous night, a strong force of Royal Air Force bombers hurled another mass of explosives last night upon mangled Turin, apparently striving to deal the death stroke to the once great Italian industrial city on the River Po.

The Italian high command admitted the raid and said "on the whole damage was great."

("Many buildings were hit and numerous fires were started," the daily communique said.

("The number of victims from the preceding raid (Tuesday night's heavy attack by the RAF) are 75 dead and 112 wounded. The losses of last night are not yet known.")

The air ministry said that three bombers failed to complete the round trip from Britain across the Alps, but said "a strong force" participated — suggesting 200 or 300 planes.

Despite the smoke pall over Turin, the bombardiers could pick out their objectives, the air ministry said.

A Reuters dispatch said watchers at Ticino, Switzerland, 90 miles away, saw lightning like flashes on the horizon and heard the thunder of intermittent explosions, apparently from the super bombs.

Turin, royal arsenal city, had been heaped with destruction and fire only the night before and the return last night for the sixth raid in less than a month testi-

JAB: Reds Push Deeper Into Nazi Lines on Central Front

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW—The Red army has speared seven miles deeper into enemy lines on the central front near Velikie Luki, recapturing 13 settlements, while the Germans still have failed in their six-day effort to regain the initiative on the Stalingrad front, Soviet dispatches reported today.

Attacking with ski troopers supported by tanks painted white to blend with the snow, the Russians apparently are stabbing at Nazi communications on the central front which extends northwest of Moscow roughly from Rzhev to Velikie Luki.

On the Stalingrad front, although slowed down by violent German counter-attacks during the past several days, the Russians were reported still pushing gradually forward as their offensive there entered its fourth week.

Dispatches from the Velikie Luki front said that the Russians repulsed several counter-attacks, and threw their ski troopers into the fray. Artillery and trench mortars were used to pound the enemy into retreat and then the Germans were driven from a nearby settlement.

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, reported that in a battle west of Rzhev the Germans fled in disorder for the protection of a forest when Russian troops breached their defenses.

Reinforcements brought in by the Germans on the central front were declared by Red Star to be generally middle-aged men, some

START USING PORT RUNWAY

Planes at Municipal Port To Use Taxi Strip; Blacktop Goes on in Spring.

Airplanes using the new 2,500-foot taxi strip at municipal airport during the winter will aid in settling the slag foundation of the pavement, engineers hope.

Concluding that winter weather will not permit laying of an asphalt blacktop on the runway before spring, City Engineer W. C. Statler and others interested in its construction yesterday advised Capt. J. R. (Bud) Harrington to begin using the strip for Army-Navy cadet training purposes.

Before the advent of winter weather two weeks ago the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company had succeeded in laying the penetrating and sealing coats on the strip. According to Statler drainage of the strip had been a troublesome problem and by waiting through the winter thaws and freezes the ballast might be settled by nature into a firmer foundation for the blacktop surface.

According to Harrington Air Service officials and officers of the Air Force school, the new runway will accommodate medium bomber type planes. At present, more than 20 trainer planes and privately-owned craft operate at the municipal airport.

The runway was installed at city cost, with construction co-operation of the county and state highway engineering departments.

Finds Carrots Won't Turn Dark If Kept Covered

WOOSTER — Carrots are becoming considered one of the most important vegetable crops because of the high vitamin A (black-out vitamin) content of their roots. Considerable loss of valuable food material results, however, if top portions of carrot roots are green and must be trimmed off.

This green color is probably due to the development of chlorophyll, as tests by H. D. Brown, Ohio Agricultural experiment station vegetable specialist, show that the development of the color is almost completely checked by gradually working soil toward the rows during the growing season so that the top of the roots is not exposed to light.

This work can be accomplished by small hand tools, and since carrot feeding roots are relatively deep, the mounding process, if carefully done, should not reduce the yield.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Syrup. It's Fine

Quick, Comforting Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

This well-known medicine, mixed in your own kitchen, costs little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. It saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Ohioan Gives 17 War Souvenirs To Salvage Drive

CLEVELAND —(INS)— A patriotic Cleveland attorney recently donated 17 war-time mementos to the special projects salvage section of the war production board.

Harold T. Clark, scrapped the following bit of "junk" to be used in war production:

Six French bayonets used in the Franco-Prussian War.

Three English bayonets used by the King's forces in the early days of World War I.

Two bayonets used by United States forces in 1913.

One stock and barrel of a colt revolver used in the Civil war.

One canteen used by the U. S. forces in the Civil war.

One German helmet used in World War 1.

One very large bolo knife of undetermined origin.

One pair of five-pound dumbbells.

The bayonets were collected in France by Clark when he attended the peace conference as assistant to B. M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries board during the last war.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

B. AND P. W. CLUB HAS HOLIDAY PARTY

Eighty-One Members and Guests Enjoy Dinner and Christmas Program at Mansfield-Leland Hotel Wednesday Evening.

MEMBERS of the Mansfield Business and Professional Women's club held their annual Christmas party in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel last evening. Eighty-one members and guests were present. The tables were beautifully decorated with red candles and miniature Christmas trees made of candies and evergreen twigs, which were later given to each guest as favors.

A short business session preceded the Christmas program. Miss Wilma Blaney was welcomed into the club membership. Decision was made to hold a "Career Night" for high school girls in place of the usual January meeting. A definite date for the event will be announced later. The Hikers' club will meet at North Lake park pavilion on Sunday, Dec. 13, for an afternoon outing. Announcement was made by the war activities chairman that supplies have arrived for making surgical dressings. Those interested in doing this work are to meet Monday or Tuesday evenings, starting Dec. 14, at the new headquarters at Mulberry and Second streets.

A report of the district meeting which was held in Galion on Nov. 22 was given by Miss Dorothy Landers, president of the club. Miss Lois MacKeller, program chairman, introduced Miss Mary McCartney who sang four numbers: "Virgin's Slumber Song," "Cantique de Noel," "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier," and "White Christmas." Miss Lois Ohler accompanied her at the piano.

The glee club sang several Christmas carols from other lands. "Alleluia," "Suo Gau, Little Child," "The Three Kings," and "Song of Mary." Miss Myrtle Booth is director of the glee club and Mrs. Minnie Cahall is the accompanist. Leona Kindinger entertained with several numbers on the accordion. A duo-tap dance was given by Anita and Billy King and a solo tap dance was presented by Dick Stafford.

Miss Myra Lorimer, children's librarian at the Public Library, read a Christmas story by Ruth Sawyer entitled, "The Voyage of the Wee Red Cap." Singing of Christmas carols by the group brought the party to a close.

Committees for last evening's affair were: program—Miss MacKellar, chairman, Bertha Gregory, Marie Weil, Althea Lorentz and Maude Vail; hospitality—Emma Reinewald, chairman, Bertha Reinewald, Ruth Wiseman, Lucille Beatty and Flora Lentzy.

Senior High Band Given Banquet by Parents' Club

The Mansfield Senior high school band had its second annual banquet Tuesday evening, sponsored by the parents club in recognition of the effort and enthusiasm shown by the band during the football season, and on numerous appearances at civic affairs.

The banquet opened with group singing of "America," the pledge of allegiance and a prayer, led by Rev. C. A. Portz, who acted as toastmaster. Response was given by James Bierly, captain of the band. Short talks were given by J. M. Holcombe, music director, Supt. G. Rohleder and Probate Judge Stuart Cramer.

A movie tour of Yellowstone National park was shown by Mr. Hunter. General chairman was Mrs. Clyde Benninghoff and table chairman was Mrs. Paul Young. Twelve mothers assisted on the committee. The tables were beautifully decorated with pine cones and red and white chrysanthemums.

The group sang camp songs during the evening, and dancing was enjoyed by the 70 members and 10 guests after the banquet.

Mrs. Carl Willis New President

The Dorcas class of the St. Matthews church held their annual election of officers at their Tuesday evening meeting in the home of Mrs. H. F. Emerson, 486 West Fourth street. Mrs. Carl Willis will be the president for the coming year.

Mrs. J. W. Ness conducted the devotionals and Mrs. Carl Willis presided over the business session. The ladies sewed for the Red Cross. A Christmas exchange was held. Refreshments were served. The Jan. 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Willis, 616 Harter avenue.

Officers Named By Church Group

William G. Weingartner was named as the new president of the Friendly Hand class of the First Christian church at the recent meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heath, 347 West Third street.

Other officers include Miss Virginia Howard, vice president; Mrs. Donnabelle Grahosky, secretary; Mrs. Lucille Gabor, assistant secretary, and James McKee, treasurer. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mabel Hassinger, who introduced the speaker, Mrs. M. D. Miller. Mrs. Miller used "The Christmas Story" as her topic.

Christmas cards, signed by members present, were sent to boys in the service. Contests were won by James McKee, Clarence Hassinger, Ruth Hamblin, Madeline Ferguson and Glen Fulton. Refreshments were served.

TO MEET TONIGHT.

The Richland Queen Council No. 55 will meet tonight. They will have nomination and election of both council and state officers. There will be a Christmas entertainment and a ten cent gift exchange.

Meet Toyland's 'Victory' War Babies

MEET the non-essential doll.

She's a war baby, just as plump and cuddlesome as her sisters of other years, but composed strictly of non-priority materials. She represents quite a triumph for old Santa, having started out as a problem child handicapped by wartime shortages of most of the traditional substances of which self-respecting dolls are made.

This year young America's Christmas dolls will be principally of cloth, stuffed with a cotton substitute for the disappearing kapok, completely minus all rubber or steel, and with curly locks made of yarn.

At first all these specifications posed a tough problem for Santa Claus, and things looked pretty black for a while. But that cagey old gentleman called together all his most brilliant scientists and skilled craftsmen and said:

"Gentlemen, we've got to have a Victory doll!"

Well, the scientists thought and the craftsmen worked, and between them they turned out a crop of dolls so charming and yet so non-essential that even the WPB was nappy.

The new cloth dolls are far different from the old-fashioned rag dolls of long ago. Their bodies are carefully sculptured to look like real children; their hair, though made of yarn, is crisp and curly enough to make any young mother happy. Their heads, either composition or cloth, are moulded and tinted and chemically treated until they have not only the look but almost the feel of real skin—and besides, they're washable.

They are baby dolls and glamor girl dolls, Gay Nineties dolls and life-size rag dolls, mother and daughter dolls and schoolgirl pigtailed dolls in the 1942 pack. And though they're made of non-essential materials, everybody knows they're highly essential to the happiness of America's little girls

LITTLE SHAVERS: This demure mother and daughter are brand new members of the doll family, inspired by the paintings of Elsie Shaver—Victorian and non-priority.

Mansfield Music Study Club to Meet Sunday

The Dec. 13 meeting of the Mansfield Music Study club at St John's Evangelical and Reformed church will feature a program that will consist entirely of Christmas music. Mrs. Fred Cahall will play the piano accompaniment for the double quartet which will sing the "Albanian Ox Carol," "A Balkan Christmas," and two Polish numbers: "Carol of Doves" and "Christmas Carillons of Poland."

Singing in the double quartets will be Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine and Mrs. Walker, sopranos; Mrs. C. O. Anglin and Mrs. H. L. Gilbert, altos, Emerson Bletz and Leo Hans, tenors; Rev. H. L. Gilbert and John Grabler, basses.

Clokey's lovely cantata, "When the Christ Child Came," will fill the balance of the program. This session, which will begin at 4 p. m., is the meeting originally scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 6, and postponed until the 13th. Mrs. Gladys Lane will serve as chairman and Miss Florence MacDonald will be the commentator.

T. N. E. CLUB MEETS.

Two former members now living in Cleveland were guests of the T. N. E. club when a meeting was held recently at the home of Miss Louise Enderle, Harter avenue. They were Miss Mary Enderle and Mrs. Peter Urschel. Secret pals were revealed and new names were chosen. A gift exchange was held. Winners in card games were Miss Mary Enderle, Mrs. John Zeides. Lunch was served at a table decorated with Christmas appointments. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Tony Lehman, Mendota street.

PYTHIAN SISTERS.

Dinner will be served to the Pythian Sisters lodge in the K. of P. hall at 6 p. m. Friday by Mrs. Florence Burghard and her committee. Members are requested to bring their own table service. There will be election of officers

The Jan. 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George, 317 Park avenue west.

PHILOMATHIAN CLUB.

When Mrs. Thornton Lake entertained Philomathian club members at her home last evening, Mrs. Richard Tappan gave a paper on the "Theater of War." Plans were discussed for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 16 at the Country Day school. Hostesses will be Mrs. Merrill Manz, jr., Mrs. W. W. Grant, and the Misses Eleanor Bond and Margaret Cayford.

Play Given by Mrs. Sanford For Study Club

"Lady Windermere's Fan," by Oscar Wilde, was the play presented by Mrs. H. B. Sanford at yesterday's meeting of the Wednesday Study club. Mrs. George L. Draffan was hostess to the group at her home on the Millsboro road. Guests for the occasion were Mrs. William Layton, Mrs. Roger Black and Mrs. Grimm.

The home was attractively decorated with Christmas greens and cut flowers. The color scheme of red and green predominated in the dining room where tea was served by Mrs. Hamilton Walter and Mrs. Alan Tappan. During the business session conducted by Mrs. Tappan, president, the club decided that its Christmas gift will go to the Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

At the Jan. 6 meeting, which will be held at the Women's Club, Mrs. Louis Bromfield will give a paper on "India." Miss Mariel Aberle will be the hostess.

New President Of Hut-Sut Club Is Mrs. Wilhelm

Named as president of the Hut-Sut club for the coming year at the meeting last evening was Mrs. N. J. Wilhelm. The club met at the home of Mrs. Robert Lyons, Park avenue west road.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Cecil Friend, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Friend, treasurer, Mrs. Forrest Fishburn, secretary; Mrs. Howard Richard, reporter, and Mrs. Robert Lyons, chairman of the flower committee.

Four names of Mansfield boys who are in service have been drawn and the club will send boxes to them for Christmas. Boxes for the army will be sent to Pvt. Harold Killen and Pvt. Harry Schuster. The boys in the navy who will receive boxes are Albert Patterson and Fred Lybarger.

The "Victory Sisters" exchanged Christmas gifts and drew names for new victory sisters. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Cecil Friend and Mrs. Martha Reeder. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Mrs. Harry Snyder was a guest. Mrs. Clyde Knecht, 271 West Fourth street, will entertain at the next meeting, Jan. 6.

JOLLY TIMES CLUB

Jolly Times club members were entertained Tuesday by Mrs. Earl Burns. Fourteen were present and the business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Carl Daugherty. The flower fund award was won by Mrs. William Schuff. Mrs. Lisle Shade and Mrs. T. J. Brucato received the prizes in bingo. There was a gift exchange and lunch was served from a table centered with two logs and candles and lighted by candles at each place.

CONVERSATIONAL CLUB HAS GUEST LUNCHEON

Christmas Party, Guest Meeting Held Wednesday at Women's Club; Program Presented By Group From High School.

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY and guest luncheon of the Conversational club was given at the Women's Club Wednesday with Mrs. F. T. Wendt as hostess. Guests were Mrs. Marie Heasley, Mrs. L. G. Bergstrom, Dr. Adda Liffring and Mrs. J. V. Horst. Appearing on the program as guest artists were the Misses Joan Solomon, Mary Alice Goodwin, Mary Horst, Louise Turner, Eleanor Wilging and John Stanton.

Lovely Christmas decorations for the luncheon tables included evergreen, miniature trees and figurines. Mrs. A. L. Derr had charge of the program, which consisted of entertainment by the group of Mansfield Senior high school pupils. "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night" were sung by a quartet comprised of the Misses Solomon, Goodwin, Horst and Turner and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George W. Hall.

Miss Wilging presented a dramatic reading entitled, "Futility." Selection by the quartet was "America, the Beautiful," and was followed with a humorous reading, "The Yanks Are Coming," given by young Mr. Stanton. Mrs. R. D. Iden will be hostess for the club's dessert-luncheon which will be held at 1:30 p. m. on Jan. 13.

Failed to Appreciate Kitchen Help

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Here's the story of a girl who made $3,000 a year in a law office and gave it up to marry a man she thought she knew—but didn't. Her letter will tell the story better than I can.

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I was 29 years old when I married, being devotedly in love. I used to dream of how heavenly it would be to go to market, trundling one of those wheeled contrivances, and getting just the things Bill liked. I even became romantic over tea towels, embroidering my initials on them.

"No vestal virgin ever attended the sacred fire as I did by blue-and-white kitchenette. Enough of my follies. I hadn't been married a month before I discovered my husband was jealous, stingy, overbearing and fault-finding.

"I had always supposed in my bachelor-girl days that marriage was a fifty-fifty proposition; that, inasmuch as I had given up an excellent job to keep house, I would be given a suitable allowance.

"At first I imagined this to be an oversight and continued to take money from my savings, thinking Bill would realize and come across with the necessary money to run the house. When week ran into week and month into month, I brought up the question. He amazed me by saying, 'You eat the meals as well as I, don't you?' I then realized he thought that because he paid the rent for the apartment, we were square as to household expenses.

"Before I married I expected something in the way of companionship and not to serve dinner to a newspaper behind which Bill buried himself during the evening meal.

"One evening, trying to keep back the tears, I asked him in what way I had failed. I told him that I wanted a husband who would be a companion to me, who would take me out, who would make himself agreeable when old friends called, and that I did not believe when a man married he should drop all the courtesies and amenities any well-bred woman would expect.

"He said when a man has caught a street car, he stops running. I gave this lopsided partnership a year's trial. Then, without saying anything to Bill, I went back to the law firm and asked to have my old position given back to me. I felt that I preferred to be a professional woman with her own income rather than a kitchen mechanic who never received a cheering word of encouragement.

"My old firm took me back. Without a word of warning the following Monday morning I started out, saying to Bill, 'Better get your breakfast downtown; that's where I'm getting mine before I go back to the office.'

"He was thunderstruck. He stormed and acted as if I had made an attempt on his life. He said, 'We've never had an unkind word.' I answered, 'No, I don't believe in unkind words, but I've had enough of this kind of marriage.'

"This all happened three years ago. Since then I've secured a divorce and I'm happy.

"Ex-Kitchen Mechanic."

Is this woman's experience a solitary example, or are there many such cases in which a woman has given up a good profession and finds herself an unappreciated kitchen mechanic?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I SHARED Olina's content at the absence of her mother and stepfather, because I wanted to hear her story and to put off for a while telling her that Georges was under the same roof with her.

"How long will your mother and stepfather be gone?" I asked.

"Not more than half an hour, I am sure," she said. Their walks are never long, but I'll have plenty of time to tell you what I want you to hear, if you still wish to hear it."

"Of course I want to hear it," I said, "and really I am not a stern judge."

"I am glad to hear that," she said, "because in spots it isn't a particularly pleasant story."

She turned her eyes away a moment, apparently to steel herself to reveal the unpleasant spots as well as the rest of her story.

"I shall have to take you back to my childhood for the beginning of this story," she said, then asked, "Have you any idea of the rigid regime to which royal children are subjected?"

"Not at first hand," I told her smiling, "but I have read about it."

"It would be unbelievable to Americans," she said. "There is a fixed code for their simplest actions, and little liberty of thought or speech. I am speaking now of Continental Europe," she said. "In England the royal children are much freer.

"My brother and sisters and I were more fortunate than the children in most royal families," she said, "for my mother is not so great a martinet as most royal mothers."

I caught back a smile, for I would not care to see a greater martinet than Olga in action, although I admire her intense maternal love and her wonderful care for her daughter's welfare.

"We were allowed greater freedom in games and play, for instance," Olina went on, "and my sisters and I were permitted to share our brother's sports far more freely than some of the royal circle thought fitting.

Many Happy Memories.

"But my mother, as perhaps you have observed, generally gets her way, so I have many joyous memories of my childhood.

"The memories," after a slight pause, "concerned Georges also, for he often visited at the palace with his mother, who was my mother's warm rfiend. I can't recall just when I first knew vaguely that some time I was to marry Georges. It seems to me that I always knew it, and Georges must have known it also, for he used to say 'You must obey me, you know, for you are to be my wife, and wives always obey their husbands.'

"We used to quarrel frequently, for we were both strong-willed and had violent tempers. But we had wonderful times together too, for Georges, except rarely when his temper explodes, has as you know the sunniest, gayest nature, and he was a marvelous and chivalrous playmate.

Rebelled at Betrothal.

"But that was all he meant to me, a playmate whom I loved, not as a girl loves the man she wants to marry, but as a cousin or brother.

"Then the time came near for a formal betrothal, terrifying to me because I did not love Georges as I should a husband, and felt that I never had had a chance to see other men and make a free choice.

"I rebelled bitterly, and finally mother came to understand something of what I was feeling. She did not hold out any hope of any other solution than my finally marrying Georges, but consented to give me a breathing space and a change of scene. Then, with her usual energy, she planned our memorable visit to the United States."

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, December 11

EXTRAORDINARY openings for success, achievement of the most ambitious of goals and objectives is presaged from an excellent chain of the most propitious of planetary configurations. Not only old and long-established propositions and projects but unique, strange, and quite unforeseen and surprising adventures rise to probably spectacular or dramatic heights of fulfillment.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of exceptional and surprising opportunities for reaching the highest and happiest culminations of cherished hopes and wishes. This applies not only to business and financial prospects but in cultural, public, social and romantic affiliations.

A child born on this day should be extraordinarily gifted with abilities, talents and social graces and qualities that should bring outstanding success and popularity. Many unique or strange factors enter into its spectacular career.

SAMARITAN CLASS.

Twenty-one members of the Samaritan class of the Park Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Allie McClure Tuesday. Mrs. A. L. Linder had charge of the devotions and a Christmas program was enjoyed. The business session and exchange of gifts followed a covered-dish dinner. Mrs. George Stocker will entertain the class at her home, 348 West Third street, on Jan. 12.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

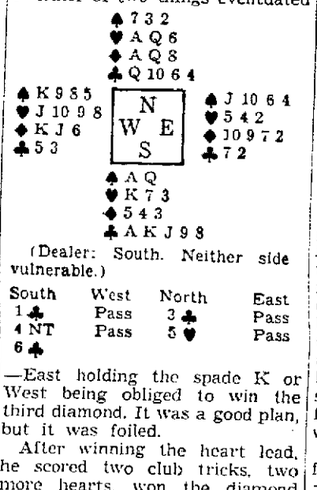
By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

GET OUT OF THE WAY

Bridge is a game of team-play, especially in the defense against the declarer. That is, to many fine cardsmen, the prettiest part of it. There is nothing so bolstering to the morale of a pair as putting up a fine job against skillful play by their opponent. One of the neatest maneuvers in this category is the ditching of a high card or cards so that, when the declarer tries to throw you into the lead, your partner will gain the trick instead, and then be able to lead through his tenace instead of having you lead up to it.

When South won the heart J lead with the A, he had figured out a plan to avoid trying both the diamond and spade finesses. If he tried them both, they would both have to work in order for him to make his contract, as he was faced with the sure loss of a third-round trick in diamonds. By dropping trumps, eliminating hearts from both his hands and winning just one finesse, the diamond, he could make the contract if either of two things eventuated



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass

—East holding the spade K or West being obliged to win the third diamond. It was a good plan, but it was foiled.

After winning the heart lead, he scored two club tricks, two more hearts, won the diamond finesse, cashed the diamond A and then led the diamond 8 from dummy. If West had won this, he would have been obliged to lead a spade into the A-Q or else a heart, which would have made possible a ruff in dummy and discard of the spade Q. But West did not win that diamond. Foreseeing the lead-throwing end-play, he had put his J on the first diamond lead and his K under the A after East had signaled with the 10 on the first diamond to betoken possession of the 9. After the K and J were gone, East was able to win the third diamond with the 9, and return a spade, making the K a winner of the setting trick.

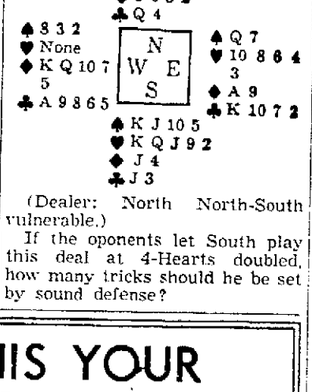
Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: North North-South vulnerable.)

If the oponents let South play this deal at 4-Hearts doubled, how many tricks should he be set by sound defense?

Older Girls Should Care For Children

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

To the high school girl who wishes to render a patriotic service now, let me offer a few more suggestions:

In addition to keeping yourself fit physically, morally and spiritually, doing your honest best at school, sharing unselfishly in the home responsibilities and sacrifices, you can do a valuable service in helping protect and care for younger children, especially those whose mothers work away from home.

Right away, I wish you and your girl friends who get together in your home or theirs, or in your club, would work out a plan to give voluntary service in the care of younger children.

Nursery Aid.

You may know of a day nursery needing your help, or of some center in a church or settlement. In your immediate home neighborhood there may be some working mothers whose children under 10 or 12 have no one to tend them, supervise them or direct their play after school hours till their parents come home from work.

Many of these mothers would be more happy than you can realize to have you as an older, responsible person in their home a few hours each day after school. In addition to providing some companionship and supervision for the children, you might want to prepare or partly prepare the evening meal for that family. If you really want to serve patriotically, don't worry about the pay.

Managing Children.

Of course, you might not be able to manage some of the runabouts. Trust to skillful persuasion rather than to force. Your mere presence in the home will keep many a child from physical and moral danger. If you can win the cooperation of the children, see how wonderful your achievement.

Then some working mothers on your street might be glad to have you invite some of their children to your home where you might engage them in quiet games, creative activities, or read to them. I wish your teachers in high school would encourage you in this sort of service and give you suggestions and training for making it effective.

Before you offer to do this service, you would want to be sure, of course, that you could always be depended on to do what you know is right. You would want to prove that children can safely be entrusted to your care. Just to measure up to such responsibility will cultivate good character and citizenship qualities.

Q. Do you have a special bulletin on sleep problems in children from two to 10?

A. Yes: I am enclosing my special bulletin on this subject in your self-addressed stamped envelope. It was thoughtful of you to enclose it in your letter to me.

BOWMAN P. T. A.

The school chorus, directed by Miss Estelle Smith, sang Christmas carols at the meeting of the Bowman school P. T. A. Tuesday evening. Donald Esbenshade entertained with solos on the electric guitar, and Nancy Lee Maxwell presented an acrobatic dance. Plans were discussed for the next meeting, which will be held Feb. 9. At that time there will be a covered-dish dinner and a special program. All members are urged to attend. The December meeting was in charge of Mrs. L. D. McVicker.

SEND A PERSONAL MESSAGE TO YOUR LOVED ONES SUNDAY

COST:

The Cost of These Messages Will Be Limited to the Actual Number of Words in the Message. No Charge Will Be Made for the Service Man's Name or Rank.

20 WORDS FOR 80c

Each Additional Word Over 20 Costs 4c—and You May Charge it.

Remember this edition will be mailed to all Mansfield individuals of our armed forces, regardless of where they may be. Let's make these boys feel that their friends at home have not forgotten them—if you have neglected to write, here's your opportunity to send them good news through The News-Journal.

Just call 4251-6 and ask for a personal message taker. All messages will be listed alphabetically and the page will be headed —Messages From Home.

Business firms as well as individuals can take advantage of this edition to send a word of encouragement to Our Boys. The cost of this message is small.

EXAMPLE:

SMITH, RALPH C., Corp. — Dear Ralph: Just received your Christmas gift. It was perfect. Mary's feeling fine now. Bought another bond. Mother and Dad.

SMITH, SAM D., P. F. C. — Sam: Business is rushing. Get this thing over. We need you at your old job. Lots of luck. Bill and the Gang.

CALL 4251-6—THE PERSONAL MESSAGE DEPARTMENT—OPEN TILL 9 P. M.

CAMP SETS SPEED TRAP

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass.—(ANS)—Because they were endangering military personnel and breaking the camp and state speed laws by tearing around the camp roads taxi-drivers and others are now caught in a speed trap set by Capt. Francis McCabe of Portland, Me., the Edwards' provost marshal.

The marshal caught 16 law breakers on the trap's inauguration day and all violators will be turned over to the Registry of Motor Vehicles with the suggestion that they be barred from the camp.

UNEVEN TRAIL FAILS TO SHOW STOCK TRENDS

Westinghouse Among Issues Boasting Slight Boost on Early Market.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Leading stocks continued to jog over a slightly uneven trail in today's early market proceedings.

At a quiet opening small advances were posted for Bethlehem, Westinghouse, International Nickel and Woolworth. A trifle in arrears were Texas Co., Chesapeake & Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Standard Oil (NJ).

Those watching building material company shares for trend clues noted the summary of the Engineering News-Record which estimated heavy construction contracts this week were 44 per cent above the like 1941 period but 17 per cent under the previous 1942 week. Public building exceeded that of a year ago by 154 per cent while private activities showed a decline of 89 per cent.

Attention was given the Dun & Bradstreet survey disclosing bank clearings in 23 cities for the week ended Wednesday were below those of the preceding Thanksgiving 5-day week by 4.3 per cent but were 11.4 per cent larger than the corresponding week of 1941.

AID INCREASES

Lend-Lease Shipments Boosted to 645,000,000 Pounds in Month.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Lend-lease shipments of American foodstuffs to other United Nations increased by 93,000,000 pounds during October, bringing the month's deliveries to 645,000,000 pounds and the total shipments since the program was started to nearly 8,000,000,000 pounds, the agriculture department reported today.

Opening of new shipping and supply lines, it said, allowed increases in shipments of eggs, dairy products, meats and grains.

of whom had been trained for only 10 to 20 days before they reached the front.

However, Red Star was quick to point out, many units which have been brought in to the Rzhev-Vyazma-Velikie Luki region are made up of well-trained fighting men taken from other fronts.

In clashes northwest of Stalingrad, Soviet heavy artillery was reported being turned against German tanks with deadly results.

The Red army's airmen were credited by Soviet authorities with a growing part in smashing at German efforts to halt the Russian winter offensive.

Today's early Soviet communique said that 'our air force on various sectors of the front destroyed 25 German tanks and about 200 trucks, silenced six artillery batteries, wrecked two railway trains and dispersed and partly annihilated a battalion of German infantry."

Twenty-four German planes were destroyed in the Stalingrad area yesterday, the communique noted.

The assertion came on the heels of a claim that Red Air Force fliers in three days had destroyed more than 60 transport planes trying to bring supplies to the German troops before Stalingrad.

The Russians said that the German 246th Infantry division stationed in the sector had lost more than 6,000 men in recent fighting.

Local engagements in the Caucasus, southeast of Nalchik, cost the Germans more than 300 men, 12 tanks and a quantity of guns, the Russians said.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Meets Tonight—The Blue Tri Inter club council will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A.

Tax Stamp Stolen—George A. Fox, 440 Lily street, told police today that the use tax stamp was stolen from his car.

Rifle Club to Meet—Members of the Mansfield Muzzle-Loader Rifle club will shoot Saturday at 1 p. m. at their regular grounds on Route 30-S, three miles east of Mansfield.

Draftees Examined—About 100 draftees from the three selective service boards of the county were given their first examination preliminary to military service this morning at the city building.

Prowler Reported—Mrs. John Kass, 139 West Third street, reported to police that a man was prowling outside her home last night and that he jumped into a car and drove away when she opened the door.

School Programs—Two Christmas programs will be presented in St. Peter's high school auditorium Dec. 16 and 17 at 8 p. m. by two different casts of eighth graders at the school. On the afternoons of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week, Christmas shows and entertainment will be given for the entire school.

Youths Sentenced—Two Mansfield youths of 15 and 17 years of age were given indeterminate sentences to the Boys Industrial School and Ohio State Reformatory respectively, in juvenile court yesterday after they were found guilty on a charge of breaking and entering. The youths were alleged to have broken into the home of N. C. Beary, Seventh avenue and Grace streets, where they stole a pocketbook and a book of war savings stamps, the latter being cashed at the postoffice. A part of the money was recovered by Deputy Sheriff Glenn Freeman and Juvenile Officer Ralph Carroll, who took the boys into custody. The boys had been in trouble previously, the older having been on parole from Industrial School when he committed the theft.

GOES TO CAMP

BUCYRUS—Orland F. Croneis of Bucyrus, one of the group of draftees who left for examination and induction at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Tuesday, waived rights to a furlough and was assigned to camp immediately. The remainder of the group returned to Bucyrus for a one week's furlough.

On Page 1 of the paper each day you will find a list of the advertisements to be checked that day.

All you have to do is to decide each day which Large Ad, which Medium Ad and which Small Ad you think will do the advertiser the most good. Just write three names on this blank each day.

$750.00 in awards go to those readers whose selections are nearest to what the majority of readers think. Every week is a separate survey with a dozen or more cash awards each week.

Every member of any family may send in one answer each week and there are many awards each week, but only one award for a good answer will go to any one family in any one week.

I THINK THESE ADS WILL DO THE ADVERTISERS THE MOST GOOD.

You are NOT required to write a letter to receive an award.

The awards are decided on the selections above. We would really appreciate it, though, if you would write a note saying what you DO NOT LIKE and . . . also . . . WHY YOU LIKED some of the good ads.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with the awards . . . but . . . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our merchants.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given to the merchants to help them to improve their advertisements BUT the merchants will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

HULA HELPS TO ENTERTAIN U. S. MEN IN HAWAII

But There Are Stage Shows, Too; Now Film, Broadway Stars Will Appear.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK -It's a long time since we have thought about the hula dancers on Hawaii but they are still doing business at the same old stand.

Only now, they're doing it—you've guessed it—for our soldiers and sailors.

Don George, veteran New York showman, brings this news back from Hawaii, where he is director of the USO camp-shows. He says 4,000 performances, variety, light opera, band concerts, legitimate plays, were dished up to the boys in the last year.

Dipping into the subject of the hula for a minute, George carefully explained that it is (regardless of what you might have heard), "basically a religious interpreted dance, the foot movement being negligible, the hand gestures telling the story."

It is done in anything from a celluloid skirt to one that is stitched up from tea leaves. It isn't called hula hula, either. Just hula.

The entertainment program in the islands is financed by the USO with a $15,000 monthly budget for salaries and costumes. There are no sets to complicate matters. An open stage is anchored to a truck, and the cast is usually close behind on mule pack.

John Halliday of the stage and movies is producing "Charlie's Aunt" and "Nothing But the Truth" for the boys. There are mobile units for small field positions, and there are troupes playing the naval and military hospital circuit. A spot of religious music is even supplied the clergy for their services.

On the principal island, Oahu, and the base of theatrical activities, there is a show a week at each military reservation (the number is a military secret).

In the outlying precincts—the islands of Kauai, Molokai, Lanai, Maui, and Hawaii, they get a show a month with a little home grown entertainment, thoughtfully developed by George, to tide them over.

Performances have been given to audiences of 8,000 and to audiences of only 15 in mess halls, barracks, hangars, and once under a kiewe tree. A show that would run an hour on Broadway takes two out there—great stretches of warm hearted applause and ten or twelve encores.

Important Hollywood and Broadway characters have not been allowed to go over because of military restrictions. But that ban has been lifted now and one of the principal reasons for George's presence here is to book a troupe of stars for those exotic islands where gun play nearly obliterated the singing of magic guitars.

ALLIES CRUSH JAPS TO SEIZE BASE AT GONA

American Forces Drive on Toward Buna; 10 Enemy Planes Smashed.

place just a week after the great running battle off Buna in which Allied airmen scored a major victory. This latest success brought the toll of enemy planes destroyed in the New Guinea area in the past three weeks to 131.

In smashing the Jap attempt to break out of the pocket in the Gona sector Allied ground forces killed 95 Nipponese in one action and disposed of another 18 in a second patrol sortie. This action brought the toll of Jap dead in the Gona area to 500 in addition to numerous troops wounded and captured.

Fighting by both sides continued without letup along the narrow Japanese defensive strip, along the road and Allied attack and medium bombers continued to remain in the thick of it. The Allied airmen pounded the Jap lines steadily. Artillery batteries of both the Japs and the Allied troops exchanged heavy blows.

The major fighting is concentrated along the Buna air strip and around the village of Buna itself. There the Americans and Australians are reported to be making steady progress, although slowly, against the enemy central strongholds.

The Allies also are gaining control of the secondary Buna air strip.

Today's communique from Allied headquarters revealed that a formation of American Liberators (Consolidated B-24's) "visited" the Jap Gasmata airdrome on New Britain island and plastered the runways and dispersal areas with 500-pound bombs.

Declares Australia In Holding Campaign

CANBERRA, Australia —(AP)— Prime Minister John Curtin told the house of representatives in a war review today that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill decided even before the fall of Singapore that their first task was the defeat of Germany.

That decision, he said, involved Australia in what essentially at present is a holding campaign. Singapore fell last Feb. 15.

Australia, with all the help she can obtain from the outside, must be prepared to hang on until the maximum Allied strength can be concentrated against Japan, Curtin said.

He warned the nation it must be prepared to repulse strong air and sea-borne attacks from Japanese concentrated on the island of Timor, to the north.

He said Australian army casualties in New Guinea up to Dec. 1 were 2,190, of which 640 were killed in action or died of wounds.

Curtin said there was "nothing to justify the optimistic view that the end is in sight."

Japs Lose Ship a Day Near Guadalcanal

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Japanese warships and auxiliary invasion vessels today are being sunk or damaged in the Guadalcanal area at an average of one every 24 hours, indicating that the enemy is risking his sea superiority in the fight for the southern Solomons.

In approximately 125 days of fighting in the south Pacific, a total of 135 Nipponese ships of all types have been sunk or damaged by American naval forces and planes. This figure includes 52 ships sunk, four probably sunk, and 79 damaged, some so severely they may be presumed lost.

Despite these heavy losses, naval sources in Washington feel that the Japanese will continue attempts to reinforce their Guadalcanal garrison, and that they will launch another powerful sea borne assault designed to oust Americans from the air field on the island.

Vichy Reports Yanks Fight in Philippines

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Vichy radio broadcast today a dispatch datelined Tokyo reporting that certain of the Philippine islands still were "held by Americans" and that Japanese marines had been landed there to end resistance.

The dispatch said Japanese naval headquarters had announced this action, adding that "violent fighting is now in progress."

The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded in London, also said Japanese forces had been landed on islands where Americans were still resisting and added that "in fierce fighting the Americans gradually are being forced to surrender."

Only last week the Tokyo radio admitted American and Filipino resistance had continued long after the fall of Bataan and Corregidor but asserted that it was being cleaned up.

Tokyo broadcasts heard in New York today did not mention the landings reported by Vichy and Berlin.

GET BIGGER PAY

GALLIPOLIS —(U.P.)— The dog warden and county courthouse janitor now receive higher salaries in Gallia county than the sheriff, prosecutor and other elected officials.

The dog wardens salary recently was raised to $1,680 and the janitor's to $1,500. Salaries of elected officials are fixed by law and cannot be boosted.

Lexington produced about 50 tons of scrap metal which had been collected over a period of 30 years.

The Zwilling family has a son in the service and decided to back him up at home by finding how much scrap they could find on the farm.

"There are a number of places in every county throughout the nation where from a quarter of a ton to 100 tons of scrap can be found, rusting away," Pence said.

"Now is the time for every American to start another scrap hunt. It will be tougher this time, but if it fails, then confiscation will have to be used in order to get the steel for our fighting men and our allies."

Price-Fixers Begin To Woo Farm Bloc

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Administration price fixers, Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) intimated today, are beginning to make amorous advances toward the farm bloc.

Initial passes, he told reporters, amount to little more than conventional coquetry—a gift here, a higher ceiling there—but he said they bespeak knowledge that the new year will bring "a farmers' congress."

Aiken, a leading member of the senate farm group, said there was evidence of attempts to stem "a growing farm revolt" through an appeasement program designed to win favor with the new congress and its greatly reduced Democratic majority.

Ex-Newsman Favored As Distribution Chief

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A former newspaperman once assigned to report the activities of the agriculture department may become food distribution chief under Secretary Wickard's new wartime food program.

He is 39-year-old Roy F. Hendrickson, now administrator of the department's agricultural marketing administration, an agency which has been buying vast quantities of food for shipment abroad under lend-lease.

Associates of Wickard said Hendrickson was in line for appointment as director of the food distribution administration which will be set up under President Roosevelt's order conferring broad food control authority on Wickard.

Hendrickson, reared on an Iowa farm, covered the department as a reporter for the Associated Press during the early days of the Roosevelt administration. He joined the department's staff as an information man and later became chief of its office of personnel. Last year he was appointed marketing administrator.

Aides said Wickard soon would ask the war production board for a pool of materials for expanding food dehydrating facilities said to be needed to meet military requirements.

Nazis Report Sabotage Unit Lands in Bordeaux Area.

BERLIN — (From German Broadcasts)—(U.P.)—A "small British sabotage troop" was discovered by the Germans Tuesday at the mouth of the River Gironde (near Bordeaux on France's west coast) and was annihilated, the German high command reported today.

"On Dec. 8 a small British sabotage troop was challenged at the mouth of the Gironde and wiped out in an engagement," the daily communique said.

No account of such an operation has come from British sources but the Berlin version suggests that a British commando unit had gone ashore in the vital Bordeaux area, where the Germans have submarine bases, either for reconnaissance or to damage installations.

Observers on the southeast coast said the planes streamed across the English channel for 90 minutes last night and were subjected to heavy anti-aircraft fire from German batteries on the French coast upon their return this morning from the roundtrip crossing of the Alps.

Air alarms were sounded in Swiss centers and the Swiss Telegraph agency said that the Swiss minister in London had been instructed to make a "very firm" protest against RAF flights over the nation.

Germans Pour Troops Into Italy, Turks Say

ANKARA, Turkey Dec. 8—(Delayed) —(U.P.)— Well-informed diplomatic quarters said today that a steady stream of German air, anti-aircraft and land forces into Italy, all under Gestapo supervision, banishes any chance of Italy breaking away from Germany and seeking a separate peace this winter or next spring.

While the number of Germans already in Italy has been exaggerated and probably does not exceed 200,000, the movement continues from Germany through the Balkans to relieve the strain on railways in northern Italy and to give the impression of a progressive occupation of the seized countries.

Most of the land forces being sent to Italy, one source said, have been drawn from slender reserves in Germany. The new Russian offensive makes withdrawals from the eastern front impossible.

Argentine Minister Says Nation Seeks To Work With U. S.

BUENOS AIRES — (U.P.) — A trend in Argentina foreign policy toward closer collaboration with the United States in a continental defense program was seen today in a statement by foreign minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu on the anniversary of Argentina's declaration of non-belligerency.

Guinazu said Argentina had carefully guarded and strengthened its position and was making efforts "wholeheartedly and efficiently for collaboraion with the United States."

The trend toward closer collaboration started when the United States presented concrete evidence of Axis espionage in Argentina resulting in numerous arrests and implication of German embassy members, and which may lead to the expulsion of the German naval attache.

tion of more than 350 American cities, WLB members were said to be largely determined that the federal government should take a hand in city labor disputes.

However, some members were reported to favor less radical action. They would like to see, possibly under WLB sponsorship, the various cities and labor unions work out definite rules for the settlement of labor disputes.

These rules would outline the powers of the city and the union, possibly assure the unions of a speedy decision of grievances and in turn embody a union pledge to give up any right to strike, they said.

Disputes in New York, Newark, N. J., and Omaha, Neb., are certified to the WLB and in the Newark case, a board panel recently recommended that the board make an immediate settlement, largely in contradiction of decisions by city officials.

trouble," told police he charged 50 cents for haircuts and 35 cents for shaves. The union rate is 65 cents for haircuts and 35 cents for shaves.

Wheaton's prices are 40 cents for haircuts and 50 cents for shaves. He said his price for shaves was higher because he didn't encourage that line of business.

Wheaton explained to Deputy Sheriff Glenn Freemen that because he was outside the city limits he did not come under the jurisdiction of the Mansfield union. He said he formerly operated a shop on Third street in Mansfield, but moved out of the city more than a year ago when barbers raised their prices.

BRITISH RESUME OFFENSIVE ON LIBYAN FRONT

Allies, Germans Sparring In Tunisia as Crucial Battle Nears.

British air forces were arriving constantly at the front to support the ground troops.

"The RAF has now completely caught up with the First army," the news agency asserted. "Spitfires, Lockheed Lightnings and light bombers are overhead."

At the same time, the military correspondent of the London Daily Mail declared that "the First army has weathered the crisis," hinting that Allied air strength would be sufficient to cope with the Germans when the battle is renewed in full fury.

In line with these reports, a delayed dispatch from Noland Norgaard, Associated Press correspondent with the U. S. 12th Air Force, told of the heroic job being done by American army transport pilots to speed men, fuel, supplies and equipment to the fighting zone.

Norgaard quoted Major James L. Lee, of Carlton, Miss., chief of the transport command, as telling how one group of transport planes helped move a British air base 200 miles nearer Tunisia overnight, flying ground personnel, gasoline and equipment over terrain it would have taken a truck convoy days to traverse.

Reports of dissension between German and Italian troops began to crop up on the Tunisian front as they had earlier in Egypt and Libya.

An Allied headquarters spokesman in North Africa said that in some sectors the Germans and Italians literally are not on speaking terms and that in some instances they had refused to be photographed together.

Allied Paratroops 10 Miles From Tunis

LONDON—(INS)—Allied parachutists have penetrated to within 10 miles of Tunis to carry out a series of demolitions, a Reuter's News agency dispatch from a correspondent with the British first army reported today.

The para-troops, according to the dispatch, were dropped southwest of Tunis, capital of Tunisia but the type of demolition performed was not disclosed.

The dispatch also failed to identify the parachutists as American or British but it was recalled that American para-troops under the command of Col. Edson Raff of New York have been prominent in operations in North Africa.

Ohioan Shot Down, Escapes Strafing

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA —(AP)— Lieut. Charles E. Earnhart, of Lebanon, O., crashed in enemy territory after damaging four German aircraft, but escaped while Nazis strafed his damaged plane, the Twelfth U. S. air force reported today.

A spokesman said the officer shot the Nazi craft before his own P-38 was hit and forced down, adding:

"As soon as his plane struck the earth, Earnhart jumped out. The Germans immediately strafed his plane, but he ran back, got his jacket which had been riddled by bullets, made his way through Allied lines and reported at the field where he had been believed missing."

British Commons Debate Darlan Issue

LONDON (INS) The House of Commons today went into secret session to debate on the situation in North Africa, particularly in reference to the status of Admiral Jean Francois Darlan.

Shortly before the body met foreign secretary Anthony Eden turned down a request by Laborite Aneurin Bevan that the government issue a statement outlining to the house the government's attitude toward Darlan, temporary administrator of North Africa.

"Our public position regarding this matter," Eden said, "already is governed and remains governed by President Roosevelt and statements I have already made. Therefore, I could not possibly undertake to accept Bevan's request."

Spangler said Wallace wanted to change the diets of Asiatics from rice to milk. Witherow told the NAM convention in New York last week that aid to war-torn countries after the war was a foregone conclusion.

"But not the rehabilitation of their economy or the reforming of their lives," he said. "I am not fighting for a quart of milk for every Hottentot, or for a TVA on the Danube, or for governmental handouts of free Utopia."

RAPS AP SUIT AS ATTACK ON FREEDOM OF AMERICAN PRESS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Describing the justice department's suit against the Associated Press as "evidence of a determined effort on the part of the bureaucrats at Washington to freeze the bill of rights," Representative Plumley (R.-Vt.) asserted today there was "no justifiable excuse for an attack on freedom of the press."

"If press and political freedom are to live, this suit should be thrown out of court," the New Englander said in a speech prepared for delivery in the house.

"The people stand to be the big losers. If, by any chance, this suit is lost, the people will have been deprived of one of the safeguards of democracy."

He destribed the action as "more than a lawsuit" and said it was "an effort to take something away from the people that is needed now as never before in our history."

"The monopoly suit against the Associated Press seeks to accomplish a total governmental control, to constitute a greater monopoly, as it, under its guise of relief for the public, would allegedly destroy a lesser," Plumley said.

He said the government "already holds the power of life and death over radio," and gives orders to the motion picture industry, leaving the newspapers as "our bulwark, frank, free and fearless."

Plumley said he subscribed to a general belief that the suit was "instigated by a New Deal supporter in competition with an anti-administration newspaper."

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1942.

We, the strongest and most powerful nation in the world, must keep our own house in order. We must be in a position when the war is over to turn our energies, our productive resources, to the arts of peace.—James F. Byrnes.

Strike News Will Please Japan

COMING so quickly after observance of Pearl Harbor day, the Japanese will probably be considerably heartened by yesterday's news of strikes in war production industries in Johnstown, Pa., and Detroit.

And never doubt but that they will hear of it—for information about what is happening in the United States is not hedged about by the extreme secrecy prevalent in Axis countries.

Japan and Germany will not understand, of course, that strikes in war industries involve only a small percentage of the entire output of military equipment and they are likely to interpret such action as reflecting the disunity which existed before Pearl Harbor—and which they have been led to believe still continues.

Except that their action tends to extend the war, and cost more lives by cutting down production of steel plates for warships, "grievances" of strikers at Johnstown may be considered sufficient, in their own minds, to justify their action.

They ask for a clearer definition of the president's wage-freezing order and demand double pay for the seventh consecutive day's work. The company contends the men were already receiving this double pay.

What seems more important, when war production is so desperately needed, is that some method be evolved under which work can continue, in accordance with labor's "no strike" pledge to President Roosevelt, until differences can be ironed out and an agreement reached.

It is not encouraging to note that entrance into the second year of war finds the United States still unable to discover at least a temporary solution to its labor problems.

Charles H. Spencer of the Advocate

ANOTHER traffic accident—that's all it probably appeared to be to newspaper readers—except in Newark and the surrounding area, and among newspaper men all over the state.

A fatal traffic accident seems so much more important when you are acquainted with the person who was killed—and this time it was Charles H. Spencer, publisher of the Newark Advocate, and as fine a man as you'll ever know, who met death yesterday when his automobile collided with a truck.

Active in the Newark newspaper field from young manhood, when he became a reporter soon after graduation from college, Mr. Spencer's policies was marked throughout by consistent efforts toward advancement of his home city and active participation in civic affairs.

In his business and fraternal associations, as well as in his home life, Mr. Spencer displayed the admirable qualities of heart and mind which make for good citizenship and valuable community service.

Charles Spencer will be greatly missed in Newark—but his work in the field of newspaper publication now passes to his two sons, Frank and John, who are fortunate in the training they have had from their father—not only in publishing a newspaper but also in the principles of right living.

Workers Help Finance War

ONE of the reassuring things about this perilous and expensive war is the way a great majority of American labor is supporting it. Workmen do this increasingly with their heads, their hearts and their pay. It is coming to be regular procedure for employers, with the consent of their employes, to turn 10 per cent of the pay rolls directly into war bonds for the workers. This provides one-tenth of workers' wages for payment of current war bills. It keeps the government's credit sound and helps to ward off the inflation that would rob money of its buying power.

Still more might be done, however, in the spread of such sensible and patriotic investment among people of all classes. The strength of the nation lies in its workers as much as its fighters, and the former serve their country fully when they not only produce the fighting stuff but lend the government their money to help pay for it. This is no hardship, because such loans, in the form of government bonds, are the safest investment possible, as well as the most patriotic.

One Speeder's Explanation

THE EFFORT of an Elyria attorney to escape payment of a fine in Mansfield municipal court, after having been arrested on a charge of speeding at 65 miles an hour on route 42, while returning home from the Ohio State-Michigan football game, has the appearance of being an entirely unjustified plea for special privilege.

The explanation that he was "hurrying home to a sick wife, after attending the football game" may not be questioned for truthfulness, although it has become a somewhat classic excuse for speeding, but it immediately serves to raise the point of necessity, in the matter of making the trip to Columbus in the first place if conditions at home required such a speedy return.

It it gratifying to observe, however, that in this instance the speeder did not claim "ignorance of the law."

Cities Reducing Indebtedness

STRANGE as it may seem, there are some decreases in American public debt. Not the national debt, to be sure, with the war raising it daily to fabulous heights. It is the indebtedness of larger cities that is going down, according to a study compiled by the Detroit Bureau of Research.

For 1941 their figures show a drop from $5,492,000,000 to $5,352,000,000. Both figures are too remote from everyday experience to mean much, but expressed in another way they take on real significance.

The 1941 reduction, for 286 cities with more than 30,000 population, meant a burden lessened by $171 for every man, woman and child, which means it will be that much easier to bear the financial burdens of the war. Municipal debt reduction is a patriotic service.

It is being noticed that only those who are not actually entitled to a C sticker are embarrassed by its prominence on the windshield.

THE WINNING NUMBERS

Skeptical About What's Ahead

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—That the United Nations will defeat the Axis is the increasingly evident consensus of opinion in governmental circles in such important capitals as Washington and London. Judgments differ somewhat as to how long it will take, but the final outcome's practical certainty generally is agreed on.

Economists are noting however, that financial markets don't react as naturally would be expected, on the supposition that the international military outlook is a foregone conclusion.

They don't manifest the cheerful confidence that might seem reasonably to be looked for. They're not depressed, but neither are they hilarious.

This isn't to be interpreted, it seems, as an indication that the financiers are skeptical of the accuracy of the military folks' calculations concerning fighting prospects. Instead, the guessing concerns the sort of socio economic world we're likely to graduate into at the current strife's end.

The individual doubtless will continue to own his house and lot, the clothes he wears and any little retail business that may happen to have been left over to him.

But how about big business that perhaps he's invested in?

The miniature firm of Jones & Smith presumably will survive, but how about the huge Jones-Smith corporation that the peewee partners own a few shares in and on which they draw a few dollars in quarterly dividends?

Heavy Taxes for Years.

Taxes will be terrific on into the indefinite future.

Wages are being governmentally frozen, so that the corporation won't be able to economize in that particular.

Prices are being frozen also, so that the concern won't be able to get back to a pre-war break in that detail.

Temporarily the Jones-Smith outfit has a sufficient bank account to wiggle through the crisis—provided it doesn't last too long.

But will all these wage floors and price ceilings be ripped out as soon as peace is restored? Or is it a new system that we're inadvertently being absorbed into?—one that'll last on into post-war infinity?

In short, will we ever succeed in re-establishing pre-war capitalistic-employe-customer arithmetic?

And then, tariffs?

I've always been a free-trader, but these readjustments can be pretty disorganizing when decidedly sudden.

Market speculators, it appears, are suspicious that olden times are gone forever. Just what's ahead they're leery of. Their impression is that our hitherto modern democracies will be involved, as well as our modern despotism, such as Russia, for instance.

One question is—

What's it desirable for a man to work at?—not from his own selfish standpoint but from the standpoint of his community.

The query arises in connection with the issue of the chap's deferment from military service. Will he do more good at home than in uniform? Suppose he's a dairy hand. How much of a dairy hand, though? One cow? One isn't enough to defer him. How many, then? Director Lewis B. Hershey's selective service system has been getting out a questionnaire on this subject, to employing dairymen.

Cows and the Army.

How does one cow compare, for usefulness, with how much military service? Then multiply the cows, and, subtracting the total from military service, see what the answer is. Maybe the result's the other way. Perhaps the cows are in a majority.

Yet a cow doesn't yield milk exclusively. It can be killed and eaten. Which form's preferable?—lacteal fluid or beefsteak?

Another item enters into the problem—

Cows aren't exclusively milkers or directly edible.

Experts need to be kept at home to encourage 'em to propagate little calves for subsequent consumption.

Same thing with pigs and chickens.

Director Hershey's questionnaire goes into all this minutia.

It should be very informative if our western farmers are statistical enough, but what I'm told is that it's quite a bit too scientific for 'em. I understand it's got 'em groggy.

Listen World!

Salute to France!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

LONG AFTER Hitler is forgotten, long after the horror of the great war has become a folk tale, and the grapes and olives, figs and pears and grain are heavy with harvest on Europe's slopes again, They will be remembered. And the thought of Them will be like wine and song, warming men's hearts forever.

It was not an easy thing to die that November morning. The midnight hours must have been long for those commanders of the interned French fleet at Toulon, knowing what must come with the dawn. Somewhere there were wives, children, old mothers and fathers. Somewhere- blasted forever now were the personal dreams they had cherished.

But somewhere, also, there was France! And the monster who sprawled like an octopus over it, sucking its strength, reaching out greedily for the fleet that was once the glory of France.

No, it would not be easy to die, but it would be harder to live, knowing the last remnant of France's pride was serving a madman's purpose. So there in the dark, they made what plans remained to be made. Said their farewells, took their stations and, with the sunrise, went calmly to their death.

Scuttled warships, their officers and crews, the deliberate suicide of the whole fleet—in all our human history there has been no nobler gesture. The Germans fought like fiends against it. Behind them, on the shore, the dynamited arsenals vomited their flame. Before them, in the harbor, one ship after another roared its tremendous hail-and-farewell. Then turned and sank, its men caught in belching flame and bloody tide. And yet the Germans fought to tear away the charges which were left, to quench the fuses.

Perhaps within their warped and regimented minds they thought that, at the sight of death, the French would quail. They did not know the French. To each man there, it was part of France. Better it should die, and he die with it, than cringe beneath the heel of any Hun.

THE GREAT FRENCH FLEET IS DEAD. BUT IN THEIR DEATH THEY HAVE GIVEN HOT NEW LIFE TO EVERY DECENT SOUL.

We have felt our courage falter here. We've seen our bright faith flicker like a burned-out flame. We've worked and sacrificed, and yet we've often doubted if the old heroic days would come again. Could men march out again on a crusade after the Holy Grail? Could men fight as they fought at Valley Forge for liberty?

Well, now we know. They went, with their flags flying, on their last crusade, those sailors at Toulon. They looked at death with grim and dauntless eyes and watched the waters rise. They could have saved themselves long weeks ago. Instead, they died.

Tomorrow or tomorrow, what is left will float ashore. But through all centuries to come, their spirit will march on, firing men with hope when their faith falters, blazing the everlasting truth that man is something greater than his sum of flesh and bones.

"They died." I think they live. And, from their nameless graves I think that France, and all of us, will be reborn.

Timely Editorial

Quite Natural Error.

The Indiana motorist who offered ration coupons, but no money, in exchange for gasoline at a South Bend filling station, did so under the impression that the government was providing free fuel to keep all the motor cars rolling.

Had not hundreds of thousands of farmers received federal checks for producing nothing? Had not other hundreds of thousands of citizens been given coupons of various colors to exchange for free food at the grocery stores? Why not, indeed, free gasoline also, to the limit set by the rationing book?

This line of thought may be naive, but it is easily explicable in terms of New Deal economics. It is hard to understand that nothing whatever is free or easy to get under war-time rationing. Certainly the coupons are neither money nor its equivalent. They only confer upon the holder the right to spend some of his war-time wage for sugar, coffee, gasoline, tires or what-have-you.—Toledo Blade.

American Airmen Play Vital Part In Libya Fighting, Records Show

—By DE WITT MACKENZIE

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN LIBYA—There is one thing I want to be sure to emphasize before leaving this cockpit of the Mediterranean. It is that our airmen who are operating with the British Eighth army have played an absolutely vital part in the great victory already won over the Axis.

They are entitled to this credit and the folks back home have a right to know about it.

Now this article isn't calculated to be a disclosure of virtue which someone is trying to hide from the world. Nobody is trying to suppress it, but on the contrary the prowess of our boys is being sung across the Libyan desert by our Allies. Still, fine exploits frequently get pigeonholed.

The Americans and the British are working hand in hand and give credit to each other freely. For instance, Air Vice Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, commander of the Royal Air Force and Allied units in the western desert, tells me our airmen are doing "magnificently."

Our own Col. William H. Crom, assistant chief of staff of the American air forces here, gives another side of the picture. When I asked him if he had anything he would like to contribute, he replied:

"Yes, there is. I take it that when this war is over, Britain and the United States must co-operate in a big way abroad to maintain the peace. I want to say a word for our Allies. When our young men of the 57th fighter division arrived there they were green. They were inexperienced in the tricks of the desert. The British knew this type of fighting and they were generous.

"The Royal Air Force and the South African Air Force made flights with our fighters to teach us the ropes. They handled our people for two or three sorties until we knew our way about and acquired the technique peculiar to desert warfare. It was a fine thing for our British comrades to do."

I am told by Lieut. Col. Cornelius V. Whitney of the intelligence staff, who was with the American air forces through the whole campaign, that this same U. S. fighter group was considered among the top dogs on the desert.

It is recorded that the 57th destroyed 44 planes, probably destroyed seven more and damaged 20½.

I asked the U. S. Army air forces statistician how under the sun he could figure that half a plane was damaged.

"Well," he grinned, "it means that a British plane and an American plane got after the enemy machine together and damaged it. So we give each air force credit for half. We are accurate."

That is the sort of 50-50 basis of co-operation that the Allies here have been aiming at.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There have been lots of moving days in Washington in the last couple of years, but January 3, 1943, will be the biggest mess of a moving day that Capitol Hill has seen in many a moon.

Into the new and the old House office buildings on (or about—it will really take weeks to get the muddle straightened out) that date will come 106 new members of the house of representatives.

If the only problem were moving 106 congressmen into offices vacated by 106 congressmen, the problem would be pretty simple for Edward Brown, superintendent of the House office buildings. But it's a good deal more complicated than that.

For example, there are many holdover congressmen who are dissatisfied with their present offices. These congressmen have seniority. They have a priority on offices being vacated. They also have priorities (seniority) on each other. Consequently, every request has to be labelled according to the congressman's rights.

This congressman can't stand the bright afternoon sunlight. Another can't take it in the morning. A third wants to be closer to his two old cronies. A fourth wants to be in the "new" House office building. A fifth wants back in the "old" House office building because the ceilings are higher there and he doesn't feel so "cramped up."

THAT may give you some idea of the pains in the neck that are keeping Brown awake these nights. Before it is over he will probably have settled and resettled 200 new and holdover congressmen. Some of them are bound to be dissatisfied and won't be too keen on rehiring Brown. Is it any wonder that the hard-working and constantly harassed superintendent is nursing a biennial headache?

The business of getting a new congress settled into the working groove is much more of a task than the public (or even most of the congressmen) realizes.

Before any new member of congress can take his seat, South Trimble, clerk of the house, has to have his certification(which comes from the governor of the state in which he was elected) on hand and in proper form. Without this, no incoming member of the house or, for that matter, any re-elected member of the house can take his seat in the new congress.

Back of that are the statements of campaign expenditures which, by law, also have to be filed with the clerk. This includes not only a statement from the elected candidate but also reports from all his opponents. In the recent campaign, these statements numbered over 2,000.

* * *

WHEN the 106 new members arrive, each has to be instructed into the various complications of getting settled on the congressional roles. There is the business of obtaining his signature for franking privileges and his biography for the Congressional Record; of instructing him about allowances, commutation, clerk hire, applications for committee assignments, how and when he (or she) will take the office, and 1,001 other details that all freshmen congressmen must be told about before they can settle into their seats on house floor and start representing their constituents.

Deferred Symphony

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—We come now to the sad story of Paul Lavalle, versatile musical conductor who is perhaps best known for his authentic jazz playing and conducting on the justly famous radio show known as "The Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin street."

Paul spent close to a year composing something he calls "Symphonic Rhumba." When Leopold Stokowski heard it, he asked permission to put it on his NBC broadcast. Paul couldn't say yes fast enough.

So the date was set—Nov. 15. That was the day President Roosevelt made a special address, and half an hour of the Stokowski program, including of course Paul Lavalle's "Symphonic Rhumba," was heard only in Never-Never Land.

The composer (his name was Laval when it was a name to wear proudly) derives small comfort from Stokowski's promise that the work will be presented at a later date. "You never can tell," observes Lavalle sadly, "When the President will speak again."

THE war is bringing out of semi-retirement Jack Norworth for the role of Grandpa Martin Vanderhof in USO-Camp Shows' production of Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You." Jack now is rather stout and his thinning hair is peppered with gray. Once he was a matinee idol, and in 1907 he and the unforgettable Nora Bayes were married.

Together they were the highest priced team in the world. They appeared in the first Ziegfeld Follies, in which she introduced his song, "Shine On, Harvest Moon," and in the second Follies, another of his hits, "When It's Apple Blossom Time In Normandy," which your mother may have sung to you when you were a baby.

During the last war Jack entertained troops in England and France, and in ensuing years he has played in various musicals. Two more of his hits were "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and "Come Along My Mandy." His marriage to the late Miss Bayes didn't last, but he has been writing her life story for a screen dramatization. His hobby is a collection of 30,000 of "the tiniest of everything" which has been displayed in museums all over the country.

IT WAS my good luck to be on hand for the third birthday party of "Life With Father," which was fun because the rooms at Sherry's seemed full of red-headed Day boys, past and present, of all sizes and ages. Most of them, upon arriving, went straight to Howard Lindsay and said, "Happy birthday, father," then singled out Dorothy Stickney (Mrs. Lindsay as well as Mrs. Day) and politely shook hands with her too.

Members of the Percy Waram-Margalo Gillmore road company were there, and members of the "Strip for Action" company, that being another Lindsay-Crouse play, and stage hands and real mothers and fathers of the Day boys—and the real Mrs. Clarence Day, a small, energetic blonde woman, stylish and attractive in widow's black. Meantime, the play goes into its fourth year, piling up new statistics daily.

A Farmer's Diary

Dead Along the Trail

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

DURING the cold weather last week, I counted three dead moles on top of the heavy snow crust between our house and barn. That same morning, when I walked a mile across the hill, I counted 10 dead field mice that had made long lacy tracks, and sunk down. Farther on, I noticed openings in the frozen crust and similar lacy trails for some distance around. I poked a stick down and widened the opening, then lifted the frozen chunks. Beneath was lush green grass and unfrozen soil. The burrows followed east along the upper portion of the grass roots.

In an open field, a hawk winged some 50 feet above a selected spot, then dropped with talons outstretched fiercely. After he flew away, I walked over to the place. His sharp claws had never touched the snow, but the print of each outer wing tip had swept clean the newly fallen flakes. A mouse's fancy trail had ended short. Close by were three more mice, dead, and a short tailed shrew. The hawk evidently chose to kill his own meat, and left the frozen dead alone.

That same evening, as I returned by the eastern border of the woods, I found at different places four rabbits lying half buried, frozen in the icy crust. I examined them carefully. All were torn by shot in various parts of the body and had crawled away to die. It looked to me like cruel business. Even a hunter of the lowly rabbit should aim true, and avoid giving suffering. (Since I have learned a cure to keep those rodents away from my fruit trees, I have felt more kindly toward the rabbit tribe.)

On that same stormy walk, at dusk, I heard a mother quail calling her scattered brood. Bird dogs of hunters must have flushed her family. Long after dark, I listened close to our eastern window and heard that quivering call. I wondered whether her brood was dead, and only the old mother's wise experience had saved her. Listening, I grieved, too, to hear this weary voice of the wild calling through the snowy dark for a brood that would not return.

Characters In Dickens Story To Come to Life

The familiar characters of Charles Dickens' beloved story, "A Christmas Carol," will come to life at the annual holiday party to be held by the Children's theater at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Excerpts from the play, presented by this group several times in the past, will be offered by the Junior Workshop with John Bishop in the role of "Scrooge," and little Judy Maxwell in the part of "Tiny Tim." Other characters will be enacted by George Ridenour, George Porterfield, Bettie Gibson, Doris Alverson and William and Robert Gandert.

All children enrolled in the summer workshop are invited to attend the affair and to answer to roll call by naming their favorite Christmas story and author. Other Christmas features will augment the program.

Members of the Children's theater executive board and mothers of the children will act as hostesses. Mrs. Joy Herbert is chairman of arrangements for the party following the program. Her committee includes, Mrs. Alverson, Mrs. Estes Thompson, Mrs. W. J. Bishop, Mrs. Robert Beatty, Mrs. Frank Maxwell, Mrs. Edward Hegarty and Mrs. Michael DiSanze.

NETWORK OF VICTORY

Above, is shown the track "layout" of an important railroad terminal—the Union Station at Washington. Over it, in a single month, move more than 108,000 locomotives and cars. Yet, impressive in size and activity as this track setup is, it is only a small part of the vast network of lines that stretch from coast to coast . . . border to border . . . linking city to city . . . natural resources to war industries—a smooth, unified system totaling over 235,000 miles of railroad!

In the grand strategy of our military leadership, these lines are absolutely vital to success. For it takes railroads to move great masses of troops . . . railroads to haul the mountains of materials needed for war. With them, our military command can move troops to any point in the country . . . get supplies from anywhere —quickly, smoothly, efficiently! In fact, right today —every day—more than 33,000 trains are working for the war effort!

The spirit of private enterprise—American enterprise —built this great system. And, with the continued cooperation of the public, Office of Defense Transportation, Navy and War Departments, this spirit will keep it rolling . . . for Victory.

NEW WAR STORY, 'REPRISAL,' AT CITY LIBRARY

Author of 'Escape' Produces Dramatic Story of Nazi Terrorism.

Grace Zaring Stone, author of "Escape" has written another war story. This one dealing with occupied France, is "Reprisal" which is on the Mansfield Public Library shelves.

When a German officer of occupation in a small French village is murdered, 20 hostages are destined to be shot if the murderer is not found within three days.

The story centers around Andre Galle, former socialist minister, his daughter, Francoise, his young son, Blaise, and an American painter. With Blaise suspected of the murder, even by his own father, the dramatic conflicts within the Falle family build to a breath-taking climax.

Ruth F. Howard, author of VIEW FROM A WINDOW, tells the story of Janet Elliot, famous concert-artist, who wanted to run away and hide when she learned that she could never play again. Instead, she decides to carry out her brother's last wish—that she go to Southern California and train their horse for the Ventana Gran Nacional steeplechase. Janet found a lonely inn and accomplished the impossible—not only of training the horse, but of falling in love again.

FRIENDS OF THE PEOPLE by Alfred Neumann is an historical novel built around the French statesman, Gambetta, and the life in Paris during 1870-71—the Siege and the Commune. It follows the author's "Another Caesar" and "The Gaudy Empire." Many famous people are featured as the chief characters.

OTHER FICTION: DEEP VALLEY—Totheroh: SHAKEN WITH THE WIND—DeFord: THE BLACK THUMB—Little.

WE TOOK TO THE WOODS by Louise Dickinson Rich is the refreshing story of a young couple's struggle to make a home away from civilization in the wilderness of the Rangeley Lake region in Maine — of hunting and fishing, of lumber drives and vegetable gardens. Written with warmth and enthusiasm and great charm, it is a book to stir the imagination of every reader and kindle the heart with envy. Good escape reading.

THE MAKING OF A REPORTER, the story of Will Irwin's life, written as only he can write, is the revealing dissection of a vital period of American life seen through the shrewd, appraising eye of one of the great journalists of the Golden Age of newspaperdom. There is hardly a public figure on the United States scene—for the past 40 years—who has not been his friend or enemy.

In his new book, BOMBS AWAY, John Steinbeck tells the story of a bomber team. He has picked six actual men now in the Army Air Corps, each engaged in one of the six jobs on a bomber plane, and has told the personal story of each, from his home town, through the various courses of training, to actual combat. Each stage is illustrated by a photograph and the result is an exciting picture of the most spectacular aspect of the war effort.

ANGEL MO' AND HER SON, ROLAND HAYES by MacKinley Helm in an inspiring biography of the great negro tenor, feted both here and abroad, who was born in poverty in a small backwoods Georgia town, and who took spirituals out of the music hall and put them rightfully on the concert stage. It is the story of a life that would not admit defeat and of a man who has done as much as any for his race—in giving them a chance to develop their abilities and to overcome their natural feeling of inferiority and loneliness.

OTHER NON-FICTION: LOWER MISSISSIPPI—Carter: PLASTICS—DuBois: TELEVISION—DeForest: 2000 YEARS OF TELEVISION—Hubbell: NAVY WINGS—Miller: SUBMARINES Zim: GAS WARFARE—Waitt: PLANS FOR A POST-WAR WORLD—Johnsen: OUR UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE—Crump: RELIGION IN COLONIAL AMERICA by Sweet has been presented to the library by the Sorosis club in memory of Mrs. Frank Remy.

DINA CASHMAN + + +

By Kathleen Norris

(Copyright, 1942.)

CHAPTER VI

"Your sister Mimi had a coat almost identically like that, Vere," a girl said at dinner.

"Seems to me she did," Vere agreed, undisturbed.

"Only hers hadn't any pockets," the girl added after a scrutiny.

"Don't remember," Vere said.

Dina knew that she should not yawn, and she patted a yawn back with her hand. She saw Mrs. Reynolds look at her sharply, and as Martha Wilson had disappeared a few minutes previously with the clear statement that she was dead on her feet and making for bed, Dina smiled at Vere and, to cover a sudden uncomfortable rush of embarrassment, proposed she follow Martha.

She had done something wrong, she knew, something that made Mrs. Reynolds look at her with that sudden keenness and that insufferable hint of a smile, and she wanted to get away before any further cloud could mar this thrilling evening.

She and Vere walked out under the cold clear November sky, and Vere looked up at the mountain peaks all about them and predicted that there would be swell skiing tomorrow.

"Well, you try it. And after you've tried it awhile we'll go up to the toboggans. That's swell. All you do is sit down and have me hang onto you."

They reached their own small cabin; Dina had gathered from the general conversation at dinner that in most of the cottages either girls or men had been quartered. In this one, which possessed four bedrooms, however, two quite young married couples had been placed, Vere, and Martha Wilson's young man, whose name was Travers Porter, Martha and herself. The place was quite dark.

They went in, and Vere piled wood on the fire in the sitting room and it blazed up gloriously. He and Dina sat down before it, Vere pushing two low armchairs together, so that with his left hand he could hold Dina's right.

It was an exquisite hour, so perfect she wished it might have gone on forever. Vere was serious now; she had seldom seen him so; he turned to smile to her now and then, stared into the fire.

Sleepiness was overcoming her; the warmth of the room, the comfort of her deep chair, the fatigue of the long trip in cold fresh mountain air were too much.

When the honeymooning little Peatties came in, complaining over the luck that had given the Wendells a grand slam on that last rubber, Dina was ready to rise and to escape into her unbelievably comfortable bedroom. Bill and Laura Peattie dropped down to chat with Vere and have a last drink; Dina could hear the waiter's voice and the clink of glasses as she got into bed.

She was still awake, watching the angles of white moonlight on the floor, awed by the unearthly quiet of the great snowy mountains outside, when her door quietly opened.

Her eyes went to it in quick panic; it did not sound like Martha, who always carried a great rush and noise and scent of cigarets wherever she went.

It was Vere, in wrapper and slippers. He came quietly in and sat on the bed and covered her hand with his hand. Travers Porter had come in after Vere had gone to bed, he reported, to say that Martha Wilson was staying with the Hochheimer girls at the hotel.

"You won't be scared, Dina, staying here alone?"

"Oh, no! Not with all these other people in the house!"

"I'm right next door here."

"I know." Her voice was almost inaudible.

He slid to his knees beside the bed and put his face against her neck.

"Gee, you smell sweet!" he said. "I've never loved anyone in my life the way I love you, Dina. My mother never loved me much, and I hardly knew my dad! It's changed my whole life, knowing you and loving you and our talking together. It seems to me you're the first thing in my life I ever found for myself. Not school nor teaching nor being told what to do—but myself. 'Member I told you that that first night at Cotta's? 'Member the red dress?"

"And Frances thinking you were Freddy Lippincott and Freddy was you."

"And that first time we went out and we were going to a movie and didn't ever get to it?"

"Because we sat and talked until nearly eleven!"

"I love you, Dina. Gosh, I love you!" He was browsing over her face with his hungry lips; she loved his bigness and the sureness of the arm that was about her, and she loved, too, the youngness of him, his little-boy eagerness to be loved, his affectionate anxiety to be reassured, to be told that he meant to her what she meant to him.

"You do love me, don't you?" he said.

"Ah, I do love you, with all my heart!" Dina whispered.

She was awake when the dawn came coldly over the mountains and began to fill the cold room with gray light. Dina lay thinking, wondering how she could face this day. What would she say, what would Vere say, when they met?

She was not sure that she had been asleep at all, but when Martha, ready for bath and change, came yawning and complaining into the room at six o'clock Dina pretended to be asleep.

"Why we have to be routed out in the middle of the night," Martha grumbled. "You'd better get up, Dina; everyone is!"

Someone was hammering on the door.

"Girls!" It was Vere shouting to them. "Get up!"

Dina caught her breath; the blood raced to her heart. That was Vere, and she loved him with every fiber of soul and body. Of course she could meet him; there was nobody else in the world for her now.

"How soon'll you be ready?" he was calling.

"Oh, for heaven's sake!" Martha called back. "Give us time. We'll be out in six seconds!"

Ready in that many minutes they actually were, Dina equipped head to foot in the warm, gay clothes that were a part of the fun of the trip. Vere had stopped on the way up the day before to buy her woolen stockings, cap and scarf; she was wearing his sister's peasant sweater and she carried the great white coat to go over all.

High up in the great snowy mountains, with the exhilarating freshness of the icy air stinging color into her cheeks and her eyes blazing like stars, she felt suddenly confident and gay. Her tawny hair, not gold, not brown, had fluffed up against the lemon, black, and blue stripes of her cap; her hands were lost in striped mittens that came well up on her wrists.

It was not hard to join the milling and hilarious crowd that was gathering in the breaking dawn, to catch at Vere's hands and feel herself lost in his big embrace. Her very soul was warmed by his kiss.

"Dina, you look marvelous! Did you have coffee?"

"No, did you?"

"No, but some of them did."

"I'd rather wait and be starving for breakfast."

"So'd I. Oh, darling, how sweet you look!" She had another kiss and a wild embrace under cover of the morning shadows; then they were racing along the snowy trail laughing and shouting with the rest.

Y. W. TO HOLD 'OPEN HOUSE'

Plans Completed For Annual 'Hanging of Greens' Event Sunday Afternoon.

Open house for members and guests will be held at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday, when the annual "Hanging of the Greens," ceremonial is held at 4 p. m. in connection with a vesper and carol service.

Preparations for the program will be completed Saturday by the 40 children meeting weekly for the "Saturday House" activity. The children will make individual favors for the tea, rehearse their carols and decorate the Christmas tree.

Girl Reserves and Blue Tri clubs will be represented on the program beginning with a vesper service. The Blue Tri choral group will sing "The First Noel," and Miss Lorena Stephenson will offer, "O, Holy Night." Mrs. Charlotte Hayes and Miss Harriet Stevens will be the readers.

Christmas carols will be sung by the "Saturday House" children including a Polish carol voiced in the native tongue.

Mrs. Irl Fischer, president of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors, will be the speaker for the ceremonial.

Miss Pearl Danback is general chairman of the affair. Mrs. John Finefrock and Mrs. Paul McConnell will be in charge of serving.

SEE BELT AS PEACE TOKEN

BRAGGS, Okla.—(AP) Night Hawk Indians of the Cherokee tribe recently displayed an ancient wampum belt and disclosed how it came into possession of the Cherokees.

They said that tribal lore indicates the belt was given to the Cherokees by the Iroquis tribe in New York in 1770. It was a token of peace given at a council which ended war between the two tribes.

MONTGOMERY WARDS'
SECOND STATEMENT
TO NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

The Following Statement Was Submitted to the National War Labor Board At Its Meeting In Washington On Dec. 8, 1942

The War Labor Board on November 5, 1942, issued on order that Wards "incorporate" in a contract with a C. I. O. union at Chicago:

1. A clause establishing a form of the closed shop called "maintenance of membership" together with a check-off of union dues from wages.

2. A clause providing for compulsory arbitration on any questions the union wishes to raise.

3. A clause guaranteeing in these uncertain times present wage and working conditions for a year.

Ward rejected this order of the board for these reasons:

1. The board was without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the constitution has not empowered the board to order any employer to do any of the things which the board demanded of Wards.

2. The order violated the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join or to resign from a union without jeopardizing his livelihood. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.

3. The order was in itself illegal. The order required Wards first to interefere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union by a check off of union dues, and third, to discriminate against employees if they resigned their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations Act.

4. Ward operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition. The imposition of the closed shop against Wards cannot be justified by reference to the so-called no strike agreement. Wards was not a party to this agreement. Wards had no voice in the selection of those who, as representatives of industry, attended the conference in December, 1941, which formulated this agreement. Wards has never ratified the results of that conference. Furthermore, the conference itself did not agree that the War Labor Board might impose the closed shop principle. Those acting as representatives of industry expressly recommended to the president that this issue not be considered by the board. The board, in ordering a form of closed shop at Wards, has acted contrary to these expressed recommendations of the industry representatives.

If Wards had had the right to test the legality of the board's demands in a court Ward would have done so, but Wards was deprived of a remedy in the courts by the board's complete lack of legal authority to compel obedience of its order. The court will only act when legal rights have been violated. The courts have declared that the mere making of demands which do not have to be obeyed does not, in the eyes of the law, violate any legal right. The board's very lack of authority thus resulted in a denial to Wards, as it has to other employers of a right to relief in the courts.

The president of the United States as well as the board is wholly without constitutional authority to order any employer to do the things demanded of Wards.

Nevertheless, in deep respect for the president and his great responsibility in time of war, Wards said, in rejecting the board's order:

"If Congress imposes closed shops, compulsory arbitration or contracts for a year's duration on employers or if the president of the United States as commander-in-chief in time of war directs that Wards accept the board's ruling, which we earnestly believe are illegal and uneconomic we will respectfully obey."

The president on November 18 wrote company saying:

"As commander-in-chief in time of war, I direct Montgomery Ward and Company to comply without further delay with the National War Labor Board's directive order of November 5, 1942."

Wards immediately answered:

"Your order of November 18th has been received and will be promptly obeyed."

Wards thereupon altered the general form of its contracts with unions and incorporated word for word, the clauses ordered by the War Labor Board. This document was offered to the union. The company has fully complied with the president's direction and will continue to do so.

The document which the president has directed Wards to sign is not a contract. The requisite of a contract is that there be a meeting of the minds or agreement between the parties. There has been no agreement between Wards and th union. The document which the president has ordered Wards to sign affects the rights and liberties of Wards and of its employees. Therefore, in order that the document itself may be clear and state the facts Wards informatively included these three sentences:

"The following provisions are not voluntarily agreed to by the company. In the company's opinion they are illegal and unsound. These provisions are copies verbatim from the War Labor Board's order of November 5, 1942, and are incorporated herein on the company's part under duress and only because the president of the United States as commander-in-chief in time of war has expressly ordered that they be included."

These three sentences are in all respects true. They do not alter the effect of the provisions ordered by the board, provisions which Wards will carry out. Nevertheless, the union has refused to sign the offered documents.

Wards will be happy to accept any improvement in the wording of this statement but Wards will resist any attempt to hide the truth by a change in its substance.

On January 9, 1941, the president said: "In the future days which we seek to make sure, we look forward to a world founded upon four essential human freedoms. The first is freedom of speech and expression everywhere in the world."

Wards feels that it is bound by the rules of good citizenship to make sure that the single truth about these provisions and Wards acceptance of them be not hidden from or misrepresented to its hundred thousand employees, its sixty thousand shareholders and its many millions of customers. The elimination of this statement would serve no purpose but to conceal the truth from readers of the document.

Wards has cheerfully met with the union and with this board whenever requested.

Wards has promptly obeyed the direction of the president. Wards insists that its right to tell the truth not be destroyed.

MONTGOMERY WARD and COMPANY
SEWELL AVERY
President.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Miss Midnight's Notebook.

Manhattan Glitter: Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, wife of the nation's hero, ringsiding at Jane Pickens' debut in the Cotillion Room . . . The Fred Allens, rarely seen in a nitery, guffawing at Joe E. Lewis and the Copacabans show . . . K. T. Steven and Corp. Jeffry Lynn, the prettiest couple in the Stork Club arena . . . Jeanette MacDonald, caught in the shopping crush at Macy's . . . Mrs. Milton Berle wearing a necklace of coffee beans—genuine, too . . . Distinguished - looking gray-haired gent with horn-rimmed spectacles scanning the menu at the St. Regis Iridium Room—Dream Man Ronald Colman . . . Super duper Gary Cooper signing autographs in the Sardi doorway . . . Otto Preminger, the theater's most typical Nazi villain, waving across the Cub Room to J. Edgar Hoover, the country's most famous Nazi-chaser.

The Owl Patrol: Paul Muni, another celebrity seldom seen in the cafes, applauding Eddie Steele, the bling pianist at Cerutti's . . . Nino Martini sipping a dry ditto at the Penguin, which has the best bar-tender in town . . . Dudley Digges ducking into the Stage Door Canteen in costume . . . Al Vanderbilt dining at El Morocco alone—and with this awful male shortage, girls . . . Commander Robert Yates showing Mary Margaret McBride his gruesome trophy—a ring made from a button taken from the uniform of the first Jap shot dow nat Pearl Harbor . . . Brian Aherne and Joan Fontaine in the 18 Club—Joan wearing a hat made of flowers exactly like the ones in Brian's boutonniere.

Times Square Cuff Notes President Arroya del Rios of Ecuador, who understands English but doesn't speak it, is getting on famously with his bodyguard, who understands Spanish but doesn't speak it . . . Elsa Schiaparelli fell so madly in love with Bill Baird's puppets at the Ruban Bleu that she is engaging them to act as mannequins at her next fashion show . . . Jack Topping has gone west to buy a cattle ranch, and with beef so difficult to get in the butcher shops, who can blame him? . . . There was so much bickering among the Latin quarter chorines over who'd get to wear the $10,000 platina fox coat that Lou Walters has acquired for the club's new revue, they finally wound up casting lots for it. Mitzi Haynes is the lucky one.

Fable From the Fifties: Eleanor French, the pretty songstress, was in Armando's the other night catching up on her cafe society gossip after spending four weeks entertaining our soldiers in Bermuda. The unit she was with left by clipper early Thanksgiving morning, bound for New York, and Eleanor was in seventh heaven at the prospect of having Thanksgiving dinner with her family.

So, dreaming of turkey and plum pudding, at the festive board, she curled up in her seat and slept—slept, as a matter of fact, right through the storm which caught the clipper an hour and a half away from New York and forced it to turn back.

Eleanor awoke just as the ship landed, gathered up her paraphernalia in great excitement, and was the first passenger to dash out of the plane—to find herself back in Bermuda!

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—This is the tale of a happy actor, resigned to sticking to his last. For a while, anyway.

His name is Richard Whorf. On the M-G-M contract list he is called an actor. On the Warner contract list, where his name used to be, he is called an actor-writer- director.

Coons

'It added up to the same thing—acting," said Whorf, getting ready to annihilate a squadron of Nazi soldiers for the sake of "Assignment in Brittany."

Richard Whorf is a wiser though no sadder man today than he was when he first left the Lunts and their stage ventures to settle down in pictures. He knows, for instance, that there's more to getting a chance in Hollywood than having it down in black-and-white on a legal form. He knows more about these three-way contracts. He has a suspicion, at least, about them as far as he was concerned.

"I think it was just bait," he said, "and I bit."

We stood in a doorway behind the camera while Director Jack Conway instructed the line of Nazi soldiers on how they were to ambush the British Commandos breaking through the gates beyond. The British had raided the sub base at St. Nazaire and were making their getaway, only to be mowed down by the waiting Germans. Conway shot the scene, and the carnage and din were terrific. Then they shot the next scene, in which the Nazis were mowed down from their rear, so the remaining British could escape. "I'm shooting them," said Dick Whorf, "from over there. That's when—we hope—the audience will cheer."

We got back to those "three-way contracts,"—to all the actors who have had them—and kept on just acting, unless they happened to be Orson Welles.

Whorf came to pictures for two reasons: one, he wanted to give the wife and kiddies a regular home after years of living in trunks; two, he was fascinated by movies as a medium, and he wanted to make some because there were so many things one could do with them. When he asked for a clause permitting him to stage-act every so-often, they countered with the act-write-direct business. He thought that was wonderful.

BUREAUCRATS DUE TO GET A 'SPANKING'

Truman Committee Framing Report Rapping 'Lack of Common Sense.'

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — The senate Truman committee today began framing a report which will "spank" bureaucrats for "lack of common sense" in rationing but will both back nation-wide gasoline rationing and justify severe cuts in fuel oil allotments.

Final action on the report was delayed until the committee can hear Lewis Douglas, chairman of the war shipping administration, and Milo Perkins, director of economic warfare, discuss the international shipping problem behind closed doors.

Sen. Harry S. Truman (D.), Mo., chairman of the special war investigating committee, said that nation-wide gasoline rationing for the purpose of conserving rubber is justified.

He characterized a recent report on the synthetic rubber situation by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers as "rather blue but it didn't miss the facts much, if any."

The Truman committee is expected to demand a simplification of gasoline rationing, especially to quell what has been described as a virtual uprising among western farmers over the difficulty of meeting demands for information contained in questionnaires.

Sen. Ralph Brewster (R.), Maine, a member of the committee and chairman of an unofficial congressional committee studying the fuel oil situation, saw little hope for relief.

"The situation looks bad," he said. "There doesn't seem to be much help of improvement in the next four months, which are critical heating months in New England. About the best we can hope for is 60 to 65 per cent of normal fuel oil requirements."

APPEALS SET

Farm Truck Owners Told To Apply at AAA Office.

Richland county farm truck owners whose applications for certificates of necessity were filled out incorrectly or who may need more gasoline for their trucks may appeal to the county farm truck board at AAA headquarters on North Diamond street, Guy Taylor, board chairman, said today.

Errors were found in many of the applications filed by truck owners and their certificates have been withheld until the corrections are made, Taylor said.

The county board of five members will hear the appeals and help the owners fill out their applications correctly at the Triple-A office, Taylor explained. The board also will act on requests for additional gasoline for farm trucks.

Taylor said his board has no control over trucks used for commercial purposes and the owners must appeal directly to the Office of Defense Transportation, 212 Grant building, Canton.

SEEK CUSTODY OF 'SLUGGER'

Officials in Conference Over Suspect Nabbed by Solon.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Three Suffolk county, N. Y., officers today sought custody of Rudolph Nies, 37-year-old murder suspect who was bested in a punching and kicking match here Tuesday by Rep. William T. Schulte, D., Ind.

They conferred with officials at Gallinger hospital where Nies, wanted in connection with the fatal stabbing of his wife, has been detained for mental observation since his fight in the house barber shop with Schulte.

Whether Nies will be removed or whether he will be subjected to mental examination here—and thus made a charge of the District of Columbia if found insane—depends upon what is decided at the conference.

HOLD-OUT JUROR FACES CHARGE

Under Indictment For Giving False Testimony on Crime Record.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—Robert O. Beall, lone male member of the jury in the embezzlement trial of Joseph E. Katona, deposed city superintendent of parks and forestry, stood indicted today by the Franklin county grand jury on a charge of testifying falsely before a jury commissioner.

According to county Prosecutor Ralph Bartlett the 69-year-old retired salesman told Jury Commissioner Frank Zimpfer that he had never been convicted of a crime, while undergoing questioning for jury service. Police records show he has been convicted eight times of numbers writing.

Beall had held out against 11 women for 24 hours for the acquittal of Katona of a charge of embezzling $1,111 by padding city pay rolls. The indictment, according to Bartlett, provides a fine of not more than $200 or a six-months' sentence or both.

Dr. Alfred A. Taylor, 63, Columbus chiropractor, also was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of "death resulting from an attempted abortion." Police accused Dr. Taylor of attempting an illegal operation on Mrs. Mary Madaline Thrall, Columbus, shortly before she died in his office.

The grand jury returned 43 true bills against 47 persons.

You Don't Have To Show License, But You'd Better

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The next time an officer asks to see your drivers' license you have a legal right to say "no," but:

Failure to comply with such a request is prima facie evidence of operating a motor vehicle without a license and the only defense against this accusation is to produce the license, the Ohio supreme court held yesterday.

The tribunal ruled in the case of Elon Farren, a Clinton county farmer, who refused to show his license to highway patrolmen after they stopped him on the highway.

He was arrested and taken into the mayor's court at Wilmington, where he produced the license. Farren later was convicted in common pleas court on a charge of refusing to show his license on demand of a peace officer. The appellate court reversed the conviction.

C. C. SKILES, SHELBY AUTOCALL PRESIDENT DEAD; RITES FRIDAY

SHELBY—C. C. Skiles, 58, president of the Autocall company and a leader in business and social activities in Shelby, died Wednesday afternoon at Shelby Memorial hospital.

Mr. Skiles had been in failing health for several years and was taken to the hospital recently after suffering a stroke.

Native of Shelby, he was affiliated with the city's business and industrial activities for a number of years. Besides heading the Autocall company, he was a director of the Shelby Salesbook company, Shelby Metal Products company and the Citizens' band.

Mr. Skiles had been associated with the old Shelby Electric company, manufacturers of incandescent lamps, before he was elected president of the Autocall company. When the electric company was absorbed by General Electric, he continued as employment manager of the Shelby division from 1919 to 1923.

C. C. SKILES

He was a member of the First Lutheran church and the Masonic lodge and was an enthusiastic supporter of Shelby high school athletics.

The body is at the Dye funeral home where friends may call today and Friday. Services will be conducted Friday at 3 p. m. at the funeral home with Rev. D. Bruce Young, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Viola Skiles; one daughter, Mrs. Jane Moffatt of Richmond, Va., two sons, Jack of Newark, N. J., division manager of the Shelby Salesbook company, and Robert, stationed with the army near Richmond, Va., and one brother, Howard, of Shelby.

SENATORS HIT OPENING OF ALASKA MAIL

Hear Price Testify That Communications Contain Military Information.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—A controversy over the interception by territorial mail appeared likely today to stall action on an administration bill to censor communications between the United States, its territories and possessions and between the territories and possessions themselves.

Senator Norris (Ind., Neb.), expressing opposition to censorship of mail to and from Alaska, told reporters he did not believe the senate judiciary committee, of which he is a member, would act on the bill in time for final consideration before congress adjourns.

An indication of the same viewpoint came from Chairman Van Nuys (D., Ind.), in a statement saying he would "hesitate for a long time" before voting for the bill.

Van Nuys challenged the authority of Byron Price, director of the office of censorship, to censor any communications except those going to foreign countries.

Price replied, however, that he was acting under the authority of President Roosevelt, who, as commander in chief, he said, had the power to enforce the security of communications to any combat zone. Price contended that mail might be intercepted by the enemy.

While conceding that Price was "doing as good a job as anybody could under the circumstances," Van Nuys nevertheless contended that congress had specified in the first war powers act that censorship should apply only to communications with foreign countries.

The committee has heard complaints from Gov. Ernest Gruening and delegate Anthony Dimond of Alaska that the Seattle censorship office, staffed by 400 persons, was opening all mail and sending excerpts from many letters to other government departments.

Price asserted that many of the censored letters between defense workers in Alaksa and their families in the United States were of interest to the FBI and the war production board.

Van Nuys said that a summary of a month's interceptions, submitted by Price, showed discovery of military and trade secrets, mention of troop movements and statements on the number of defense workers in Alaska.

GALION—V. E. Willacker, manager of the Galion U. S. Employment service office, told members of the Galion Kiwanis club Tuesday noon at their meeting at Hotel Talbott that production at Galion industrial plants would run at capacity rating if the turnover rate of employment could be balanced. He said that the plants are now running below capacity because all of them are not properly manned at all times.

In emphasizing the value of training workers in high schools of the state, Willacker said Galion schools have trained more than 500 people in general machine shop practice and welding.

Two other guests, Joseph D. Devore, Bellaire, field supervisor of the manpower division, U. S. Employment service, and Ernest Lucas, of Hollywood, Calif., field representative for Kiwanis International, also gave brief addresses. It was announced that the club contributed 100 per cent to the Galion USO drive.

LODGE ELECTS AT CRESTLINE

Pythian Sisters Will Install Officers With Ceremonies In January.

CRESTLINE—Nomination and election of officers was held at a meeting of Justus Temple Pythian Sisters Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William Blancett was elected past chief; Mrs. Alma Foster was re-elected most excellent chief; Ethel Levy, excellent senior; Mrs. A. T. Wright, excellent junior; Mrs. A. D. McKellar, manager; Mrs. C. I. Peaslee, mistress of records and correspondence; Edith Hoffman, mistress of finance; Mrs. John Stephan, protector; Mrs. Harry Cassel, guard; Mrs. E. D. Miller, representative, and Mrs. A. G. Clark, alternate.

Mrs. Clark will serve as pianist and Ethel Levy as press correspondent.

Mrs. Harry Spore will be installing officer for installation to be held at the Jan. 12 meeting.

The group discussed plans for working at the service center next week and draped the charter for the first most excellent chief of the temple, Mrs. Lottie Umberger, who died recently.

At the close of the meeting, a service flag was dedicated. It had three blue stars and one gold star, the latter for Finch Clemens who was reported missing and whose mother is a deceased member of the temple. The blue stars were for Robert Eckstein, Harry Clark and William King.

A Christmas party and exchange of gifts was followed by a luncheon served by Mrs. William Blancett and her committee.

SHELBY—Annual installation service for Rizpah chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was held at the Masonic temple Tuesday night. Taking office were:

Mrs. W. R. Bond, worthy matron; Oscar Foulke, worthy patron; Mrs. Myron Shaw, associate matron; Wilbur R. Bond, associate patron; Mrs. Jack Robb, secretary; Mrs. Sam Vanasdale, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Waddington, conductress; Mrs. Ray Armstrong, associate conductress; and Miss Arlene Reynolds, trustee for three years.

The officers were chosen by the lodge at the annual election early in November.

Galion Woman Marooned on Kelley's Island

GALION—Marooned on Kelly's Island in Lake Erie during the recent severe storm which raged on the lake, Mrs. John T. Shea has returned to her home at 217 South Pierce street after a two week's stay on the island.

The storm, which caused the loss of a tug and an oil tanker on the lake, prevented Mrs. Kelly from crossing to the mainland last week as she intended.

She said that on her return a large freighter preceded the boat which she was on and cleared a path through the ice. Although the lake itself is free from ice, Mrs. Shea said that large flocs made the crossing dangerous.

OBTAIN LICENSE

ASHLAND—A marriage license has been issued here to Ray McMullen, Greyhound Lines, and Wanda Strang, at home, both of Loudonville.

LEGION AUXILIARY HEARS REPORT ON SERVICE CENTER

CRESTLINE—Mrs. W. E. Lyman, as chairman of Pan American committee, and Mrs. E. G. Smith as chairman of Americanism committee, combined the two for a program at a recent meeting of the Legion auxiliary.

A talk on "Christmas In Mexico" was given by Mrs. Lyman who was dressed in a Mexican bride's costume and also had on display various articles from Mexico. Mrs. Pauline Wood read a Christmas poem and Mrs. Smith read an article on Pearl Harbor.

The group made a donation of $3.55 to be turned over to Crestline's service center, also $3.45 to be sent to the Xenia O. S. and S. O. home.

Mrs. Pauline Wood, chairman of the auxiliary service center, reported that $53.40 had been collected in Precinct A for the service center.

The annual Christmas party for the children will be held at St. Joseph's parish hall, Dec. 17, and the next regular meeting will be on Dec. 21.

In celebration of the 11th birthday anniversary of her son, Edward, Mrs. E. J. McCaffery entertained a group of his boy friends at her home Tuesday evening.

Edward returned home Monday from Bucyrus City hospital where he had been a patient receiving treatment for a fractured shoulder which he suffered while playing football.

The evening was spent in playing games. A large birthday cake centered the table when a luncheon was served. Edward received a number of gifts from his friends.

The Saint Helen Study club of St. Joseph's Catholic church met at the Blue Lantern recently for their Christmas meeting with Helen Frisce and Dorothy Horning hostesses.

A paper on "Confirmation" was read by Agnes McMahon and she as president of the club presided for the meeting.

An exchange of gifts was held and when luncheon was served appointments were also in keeping with the season.

Hostesses for the Jan. 11 meeting will be Dorothy and Agnes McMahon.

DIES AT 31

BUCYRUS—James H. Roberts, 31, a purchasing agent for the U. S. Rubber company at Marion, died at City hospital Wednesday of pneumonia. He came to Bucyrus Oct. 1.

Surviving are his widow, Jane, and two children, Hilda and James, at home, 800 Rogers street. His step-sister, Mrs. Herbert Loewy, resides here also.

Funeral services will be conducted in Cincinnati and burial will be there.

TEACHER TELLS OF JAP CUSTOMS

Galion Instructor Formerly Taught In Japan; Speaks Before Hi-Y.

GALION—A former teacher in Japan, Miss Ollie Brick, told members of the Galion Hi-Y club of Japanese customs Wednesday afternoon at their meeting at the Senior high school.

Miss Brick, who is now a teacher at the high school, emphasized the Japs' stoicism, courtesy, ambition and self-control, and decried the American tendency to belittle them as warriors.

She explained that the American tendency to show prejudice to peoples of other countries has been used willfully by the Japanese who, in turn, exaggerate such American statements in order to further antagonize their people toward us.

Referring to Ambassador Joseph Grew's impressions of Japan as envoy from the United States, Miss Brick affirmed them from her own experience. Duane Kinnamon was in charge of the meeting, and Ralph Pollack, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

"Is that true," quizzed Tyger Tutor Vern Hoffman, "what you had in the paper about how big those Newark guys are?"

"Yes," I assured him, "every bit of it seems to be true—6-3, 6-2, 6-1—they're big guys all right."

"Well," hazarded Hoffman, "we may surprise 'em Friday night at that. We've got a pretty fair team of bucketballers out here at the high school, and I believe we gained a lot better experience losing to the central district champions at Columbus South last week than Newark did winning an easy game from Columbus East.

"We may be just a bit ahead of them on experience as the result of what we learned a week ago."

Hoffman hopes he is solving the rebound problem with which he has struggled since cage practice began.

Doug Myers, sophomore, looked good as a sub against Columbus South, and Hoffman reports he is looking even better this week in practice.

"He gets in there and fights for the ball," Hoffman says, "and that's half the battle.

"And what's more he gets rid of the ball after he gets it. He doesn't try to hog the ball. He can pass, and does it."

The Canton Repository reports that McKinley's prospects of going through with the basketball season appear much brighter than a month ago when there was some talk of cancelling long road trips.

At present McKinley plans to fill those engagements, which includes one at Mansfield, according to the Canton paper.

But the "Rep" maintains that cancellation of trips to Mansfield, Warren, and East Liverpool would not detract from the Bulldog schedule since games could be booked with schools nearer home.

McKinley has another basketball powerhouse with grid stars Dale Haverstock, Ernie Parks, Vic Wernet, Bill Cook and Earl Loucks, jr., forming a nucleous for the Bulldog squad.

These tall fellows, in the backfield on defense, completely halted what aerial attack the Tyger gridders had this fall.

If the Tyger hoopsters can get a bit of revenge for that football massacre at the hands of the Bulldogs, it will be a successful season, regardless of the outcome of the rest of the games.

Service Tilts Cut By Big Ten

Schedules Have Few Spots For Camp Teams.

By TOMMY DEVINE

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Mid-western service teams that found a powerful athletic ally in the Big Ten during the first war year, learned today that competition available to them during the 1943 football campaign would be reduced.

The step was taken yesterday by the Big Ten's faculty representatives as the conference officials concluded a two-day meeting.

Grid schedules of nine games for next fall originally were drafted two years ago. The faculty men voted to extend the schedule to 10 games with the extra contest being played against a service team.

No provision was made, however, for the complete revision of the schedule, such as was done last March when each conference school made room for two service games on its program. It was decided to fit the service games for next fall in "where possible" on the regular schedule.

Three choice opponents, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, already have nine games scheduled with the only open date available Nov. 27, the final Saturday of the season. Ohio State and Illinois now have eight opponents each with the first and last weeks open. Forming a representative schedule for one or more service teams under such conditions will be virtually impossible.

Lt. Cmdr. Russell Cook, athletic officer at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, said he had been asked to wait "until spring" before starting to work on negotiations with conference teams.

"I hope it finally is decided to completely revise the conference schedules as was done last season," Cook said, "it is the only way I feel that we could get a representative card."

Prof. Frank E. Richart of Illinois, secretary of the faculty representatives, did not believe that would be done, however.

"This schedule has been set for a long time," he said, "and I doubt if the directors will desire to tear it apart and start all over."

* * *

The slice in the over-all conference competition to be given service teams was traced by most observers to the bitterness which developed over officer personnel used on the Iowa Pre-Flight team this fall.

A proposal to permit the use of freshmen on varsity teams was tabled after the faculty men termed themselves "very sympathetic to the idea." They felt, however, this was not the proper time to act on the suggestion.

Bass Season Change Made

Closes Two Weeks Early In Southern Ohio.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The closed season on black bass will be two weeks earlier in southern Ohio next year but other fishing regulations will be substantially the same at 1942, according to tentative plans adopted by the state conservation commission.

The commission decided yesterday to split the state with respect to black bass seasons due to earlier spawning in the southern counties.

South of route 35 from the Indiana line to Chillicothe and south of route 50 to Athens and south of alternate route 50 (50 north) on to Marietta, the closed black bass season will be from April 15 to May 31, while the northern season from May 1 to June 15 will remain unchanged.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters predicted the tentative regulations would be adopted finally by the commission Jan. 15, when it meets again.

Other changes recommended include a four-inch mesh on turtle traps instead of six inches in current regulations; increase of the limit on trotline hooks used in inland waters from 30 to 50; and inclusion of suckers up to six inches under minnow regulations.

Closed seasons (dates inclusive): trout, Sept. 16-April 14; black bass, inland, southern zone, April 15-May 31; northern zone May 1-June 15; Lake Erie district, May 25-June 30; no closed season on other species.

Bee Gees Get 134 Points

Takes Double Victory Over Easy Opponents.

(By Associated Press)

Bowling Green State university's high scoring basketeers held an early lead today in Ohio's collegiate cage championship race.

The Bee-Gees kicked in 134 points against a pair of opponents in a twin bill at Bowling Green last night to give them a record of four victories and no defeats.

The Bee-Gees crushed Toledo Naval training school, 64 to 14, and shackled Hillsdale of Michigan, 70 to 38.

Freshman forward Wyndol Gray of Akron paced the Bee Gees' nightcap attack with 12 buckets and four free throws for the best outstanding individual performance on last night's cage program involving 10 other Buckeye squads. Gray didn't play in the opener.

Another guy named Gray—forward Robert Gray of Denison—went on a scoring spree, too, with 21 points as Denison's Big Red cagers downed Kenyon college 61 to 44 in a season-opener at Granville.

Forward Gerald Wibbeler of Ohio Northern's Polar Bears also tallied 21 as the Bears trounced Bluffton, 83 to 40, at Ada.

The sharp shooting of forward Dick Lord staked Defiance to a 47-11 decision over visiting Findlay.

The University of Toledo beat Detroit Tech easily 44 to 29.

The University of Cincinnati won its second straight, a 52-40 triumph over Georgetown college of Kentucky.

The only team playing out of the state last night, Akron university edged St. Bonaventure at Olean, N. Y., 39-26.

JACK DOYLE DIES

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(U.P.)—The body of John T. (Jack) Doyle, Broadway's 67-year-old "Wizard of Odds" was held at a Jacksonville funeral home today pending arrival of relatives. Doyle, New York's unofficial betting commissioner who was widely known for his price making on sporting events, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Day Retains 14-Point Lead

Buddy Bomar Boosts Edge On Other Keglers.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Ned Day of West Falls, Wis., and Santa Monica, Calif., retained a 14-point lead today over Johnny Crimmins of Detroit at the end of 75 games in their 90-game bowling title match which will end tonight.

The champion gained more than a 16-point lead early last night after taking seven out of 10 games in the first two blocks, but he was caught off stride and soundly trimmed later by the challenger who took four out of five games in the third block.

At the end of 75 games Day led with 33840 points to 32411 for Crimmins. The champion's game average was 197.15 compared with Crimmins' 193.39.

Buddy Bomar, Houston, Tex., strengthened his lead ahead of the 99 other contestants in the competition for the 10 high pointers who will join with Crimmins and Day in rolling 72 games starting Friday and finishing Sunday, Dec. 13.

LEXINGTON, Va.—(INS)—Intercollegiate football at Washington and Lee university today was added to the list of war injuries. Dean Frank J. Gilliam announced that football at the university has been suspended "for the duration of the war emergency."

SAMMY BAUGH KEEPS PRO PUNTING TITLE

CHICAGO (AP)—Sammy Baugh of Washington is the National Football league's punting champion for the third consecutive year.

League statistics gave Baugh the edge over Dean McAdams of Brooklyn although the two finished in a tie under the league's rating system. McAdams lost out on the basis of average distance per punt.

Baugh averaged 46.6 yards for 37 punts while McAdams had a 41.3 mark for 52 kicks. They tied for the longest punt of the season, 74 yards.

County Loop Opens Friday

Madison Tunes Up By Defeating Loudonville.

Richland county high school basketball teams begin firing away the hoops for keeps tomorrow night when four games will open the county league cage season.

In pre-league games, Madison Rams have loomed as favorites for the county title, with Ontario doped a close second, and Lucas listed as a long shot, although Lucas went into a scoring slump in the last half of a recent game against Ontario.

* * *

Tomorrow night Madison travels to Bellville, Lexington goes to Shiloh, Butler plays at Ontario and Union at Lucas.

Madison turned up for the league opener last night with a 44-36 victory at Loudonville, inspired by Captain Billy Wynn's sensational shooting.

Wynn racked up 21 points during the evening on 10 buckets and one free toss, and collected 16 of those points in the first half.

Madison edged a 12-11 lead in the first quarter, stretched it to 28-23 at the half, and maintained the five-point margin, 35-30 at the third quarter.

* * *

Which means Madison outscored the Red Birds by only one point in the first period, four in the second and three in the fourth with the third even. It was a ball game all the way, and the difference in the win was Wynn.

City Leaguers Stage Thrills

Single Point Decides Both Opening Games.

It was thrill night as well as opening night in the Y. M. C. A. City basketball league Wednesday with both games decided by a single point, and one going into overtime play.

Early season sports goods championship went to Yuncker Sports in a 27-26 overtime victory over Mansfield Athletic supply, while Globe Steel edged the defending champion Westinghouse quintet 33-32.

* * *

Yes, it was a wild night of bucketball as the City leaguers priced off the seasonal lid.

Globe outpointed Westinghouse in only one of the four periods, but that 14-6 margin in the second quarter meant the ball game.

Westies took a 6-4 lead in the first quarter, but Globe came charging back to gain an 18-12 margin at the half. Westinghouse cut it down to 27-25 at the third quarter, but picked up only one more point as it outscored Globe 7-6 in the final stanza.

Hager, Globe center, took scoring honors with 12 points.

In the second game Yuncker's started out with an 11-6 lead at the quarter, only to be tied at the half, 15-15. Supplies went out in front in the third period 24-20, and Yuncker's knotted it up 26-26 in the fourth quarter.

Phillips won the game for Yuncker's with a free toss in the last five seconds of the overtime period.

TIGERS SELL LAST MINOR FARM CLUB

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers had the sole remaining piece of property from a once extensive farm system up for sale today and from all indications the club was through with chain store baseball for keeps.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed that the Tigers would sell next Tuesday their Texas league franchise where in a dozen years of operation Detroit developed Hank Greenberg, Schoolboy Rowe, Barney McCosky and other talent for three American league pennant winners.

News Happenings From Communities In Richland County, Vicinity

15 FIRMS SIGN 100 PER CENT IN GALION DRIVE

City Only a Little Short of $1,865 Goal For Service Organizations.

GALION—Fifteen Galion industries and civic organizations have signed 100 per cent in the contributions toward the Galion USO drive now in progress, Chairman Art Manser has reported.

More than $1,500 of the $1,865 goal has already been subscribed, he said, and the total over the current quota will be retained by the committee to apply on future quotas.

The organizations which have subscribed 100 per cent are Central Ohio Steel Products company, Perfection Steel Body company, American Steel Vault company, American Steel Abrasives company, Stratbury Manufacturing company, Ohio Overcoat company, Eagle Crusher company, Consolidated Garment company, Galion Iron Works, Gledhill Road Machinery company, Galion Inquirer, Galion Automobile club, Kiwanis, Rotary and the Masque club.

GALION—V. E. Willacker, manager of the Galion U. S. Employment service office, told members of the Galion Kiwanis club Tuesday noon at their meeting at Hotel Talbott that production at Galion industrial plants would run at capacity rating if the turnover rate of employment could be balanced. He said that the plants are now running below capacity because all of them are not properly manned at all times.

In emphasizing the value of training workers in high schools of the state, Willacker said Galion schools have trained more than 500 people in general machine shop practice and welding.

Two other guests, Joseph D. Devore, Bellaire, field supervisor of the manpower division, U. S. Employment service, and Ernest Lucas, of Hollywood, Calif., field representative for Kiwanis International, also gave brief addresses. It was announced that the club contributed 100 per cent to the Galion USO drive.

RITES FRIDAY

Mrs. Fred Laipply Dies After Lingering Illness.

BUCYRUS—Mrs. Fred Laipply, 49, Sycamore R. D. 3, died at her home Wednesday after an illness of four years.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Willis Ginger, Bucyrus; two sons, LaVerne, Columbus, and Howard at home; a brother, Frank Broughton, Greenwich; two sisters, Mrs. Jesse Eckleberry, Sycamore, and Mrs. William Childers, Michigan.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 1:15 p. m. in the Wise funeral home, and at 2 p. m. in the Brokensword Evangelical church. Burial will be in Brokensword cemetery.

Auditor Puts Dog Tags on Sale In Ashland County

ASHLAND—With dog licenses going on sale today at the office of County Auditor F. E. Wicks, it was announced by Auditor Wicks that the licenses may be obtained in the six villages of the county or mail orders will be accepted.

Licenses are on sale at the Farmers and Savings Bank in Loudonville, at Covert's drug store in Perrysville, at Newcomer's restaurant in Jeromesville, at Schick's store in Sullivan, at the State bank in Polk, and at the G. L. Bowerize home in Nova. Return postage and a full description of dogs must be enclosed by those mailing applications for dog licenses.

Jan. 20 is the final date of buying licenses without penalty.

CONDUCT RITES FOR J. C. WALKER

NEW LONDON—Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday at the Sackett funeral home here for John C. Walker, 75, lifelong resident of Ruggles township, who died at his home Wednesday after a brief illness.

Rev. Donald Seiler of the Nova-Ruggles Methodist church will officiate, and burial will be in Grove Street cemetery at New London.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Roy Stoner and Mrs. Harry Broughton, both of New London, and one sister, Mrs. Alice Reed of Auburn, Neb.

Mr. Walker was born and reared in Ruggles township and has lived on a farm there all his life. A number of years ago Mr. Walker had the misfortune to suffer blindness in an accident.

INSTALLS OFFICERS

MILLERSBURG—The Loyalty class of the Church of Christ installed officers for the year at their Christmas meeting Tuesday evening at the church. Mrs. Jack Taylor was installed as president; C. C. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Orla Collier, secretary; Mrs. Henry Bower, co-secretary; Mrs. Carl Mast, treasurer; Mrs. Karl Snyder, pianist; Miss Hazel Dunlap, news reporter, Mrs. Dean Franks, flower committee chairman.

LODGE ELECTS AT CRESTLINE

Pythian Sisters Will Install Officers With Ceremonies In January.

CRESTLINE — Nomination and election of officers was held at a meeting of Justus Temple Pythian Sisters Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William Blancett was elected past chief; Mrs. Alma Foster was re-elected most excellent chief; Ethel Levy, excellent senior; Mrs. A. T. Wright, excellent junior; Mrs. A. D. McKellar, manager; Mrs. C. I. Peaslee, mistress of records and correspondence; Edith Hoffman, mistress of finance; Mrs. John Stephan, protector; Mrs. Harry Cassel, guard; Mrs. E. D. Miller, representative, and Mrs. A. G. Clark, alternate.

Mrs. Clark will serve as pianist and Ethel Levy as press correspondent.

Mrs. Harry Spore will be installing officer for installation to be held at the Jan. 12 meeting.

The group discussed plans for working at the service center next week and draped the charter for the first most excellent chief of the temple, Mrs. Lottie Umberger, who died recently.

At the close of the meeting, a service flag was dedicated. It had three blue stars and one gold star, the latter for Finch Clemens who was reported missing and whose mother is a deceased member of the temple. The blue stars were for Robert Eckstein, Harry Clark and William King.

A Christmas party and exchange of gifts was followed by a luncheon served by Mrs. William Blancett and her committee.

CRESTLINE — The annual Christmas party for members of the Nimble Thimble club and their husbands was held Wednesday evening, opening with a 7 o'clock dinner at Westlake Inn.

Following the dinner the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Baldinger for card games and an exchange of "white elephant" gifts. Prizes in the games were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clark.

The January meeting of the club will be with Mrs. H. E. Eckstein.

RATION GROUP WINS PRAISE

BELLVILLE—The Bellville organization for voluntary meat rationing takes pride in having been commended by the county organization as "an example" for similar organizations in other villages.

Among the first to complete their organization, the Bellville group is composed of Mrs. Gail Myers, zone leader; Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. Fred Gregg, Mrs. D. D. Rummel and Mrs. Katherine Miller, sector heads; Mrs. Homer Worner, Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. George Stoudt, Mrs. John Stevens, Mrs. Hoy Shaffer, Mrs. Ed Hoeflich, Mrs. Fred Gregg, Mrs. D. D. Rummel, Mrs. Charles Lee, Mrs. Martha Moss, Mrs. Phyllis Keith, Mrs. Helen Lennington, Mrs. Katherine Miller, Mrs. Jack Snavely, Mrs. Alta Smith, Mrs. L. S. Ashcraft, and Misses Marie Horn and Eleanor Weaver, as block captains.

PARTY TONIGHT

WILLIAMSPORT—The Women's Missionary association of the Williamsport U. B. church will hold its annual family Christmas party at the church Thursday at 8 p. m.

A program carrying out the missionary theme: "Make Straight A Highway for Our Lord" and in connection with it a play entitled, "Mothers of the World" will be given by the members of the society. A social hour with refreshments will follow. Each one is to bring a [illegible] to be sent to the Otterbein home.

O. E. S. SEATS OFFICERS FOR YEAR IN ASHLAND CEREMONY

ASHLAND—Mrs. Harry Denbow was installed as worthy matron of the Ashland Order of Eastern Star, Chapter No. 92 at installation ceremonies at the Masonic Temple. With Mrs. Denbow, the following officers were installed for the coming year.

George Meiler, worthy patron; Mrs. Harriette Urie, associate matron; Harry Reed, associate patron; Mrs. Harry Armstrong, secretary; Mrs. Harry Reed, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Shultz, conductress; Mrs. Elizabeth Fike, associate conductress; Mrs. Henriette Gibson, chaplain; Mrs. W. B. Fellenbaum, marshal.

Mrs. Glenn Falkner, organist; Ada, Miss Margie Sue Hoppes; Ruth, Mrs. Anna Smith; Esther, Mrs. Walter Fuhrman; Martha, Mrs. Clyde Wharton; Electa, Mrs. Pearl Homerick; Mrs. George Meiler, sentinel; Harry Denbow, sentinel and Mrs. Carl Hoppes, soloist.

Installing officers were Mrs. Minnie Shaw, worthy matron; Glenn Falkner, worthy patron; Miss Grace Franz, conductress; Mrs. Herbert Ganyard, chaplain; Mrs. Homer Bush and Mrs. C. D. Mowery, marshals; Mrs. F. B. Downs, warden; Clarence Spencer, sentinel; Miss Glenna Mehl, organist; Mrs. Leo Heffelfinger, star point ceremony and Mrs. Hoppes, soloist.

A color scheme of red and white was used in the chapter room where the installation ceremonies took place, with two large white Christmas trees decorated with red and blue lights as a background for large poinsettias with white fir boughs. Two large snowballs with poinsettias marked the entrance to the improvised stage.

ASHLAND—Announcement of the marriage of Miss Lelia Daniels of Cleveland to Robert Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bailey of Ashland, has been made by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daniels of Lodi. The marriage took place Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Church of the Brethren in Cleveland Heights.

Mrs. Bailey, a graduate of Lodi high school and the Oberlin school of Commerce, is employed in the office of the Cleveland Tankers, Inc., in Cleveland. Bailey, a graduate of Ashland high school and Ashland college, is employed at the A. L. Garber Publishing company here.

RUSH STARTS

Shelby Postoffice To Be Open All Day Saturday.

SHELBY — Shelby postoffice will remain open all day on Saturdays, Dec. 12 and Dec. 19, to take care of the Christmas mailing rush, Postmaster Leo. A. McGaw announced today.

With the Christmas rush started already by gifts being sent to the armed services members, Postmaster McGaw disclosed that five extra employes will be put on at the postoffice to speed up the handling of the extra mail during the Christmas season.

The stamp and parcel post windows will remain open until 6 p. m., while the money order window will close at 5 p. m.

SOLDIERS GET PAPERS

BUCYRUS—Three soldiers stationed at Camp Millard will be given naturalization papers at hearings to be held in common pleas court by Judge C. U. Ahl Monday afternoon. The citizenship will be granted on the grounds of military service, the first time such citizenships have been granted in Bucyrus.

NAME CAST FOR SHELBY SCHOOL PLAYS FRIDAY

SHELBY — Annual installation service for Rizpah chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was held at the Masonic temple Tuesday night. Taking office were:

Mrs. W. R. Bond, worthy matron; Oscar Foulke, worthy patron; Mrs. Myron Shaw, associate matron; Wilbur R. Bond, associate patron; Mrs. Jack Robb, secretary; Mrs. Sam Vanasdale, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Waddington, conductress; Mrs. Ray Armstrong, associate conductress; and Miss Arlene Reynolds, trustee for three years.

Galion Woman Marooned on Kelley's Island

GALION — Marooned on Kelly's Island in Lake Erie during the recent severe storm which raged on the lake, Mrs. John T. Shea has returned to her home at 217 South Pierce street after a two week's stay on the island.

The storm, which caused the loss of a tug and an oil tanker on the lake, prevented Mrs. Kelly from crossing to the mainland last week as she intended.

She said that on her return a large freighter preceded the boat which she was on and cleared a path through the ice. Although the lake itself is free from ice, Mrs. Shea said that large floes made the crossing dangerous.

OBTAIN LICENSE

ASHLAND—A marriage license has been issued here to Ray McMullen, Greyhound Lines, and Wanda Strang, at home, both of Loudonville.

LEGION AUXILIARY HEARS REPORT ON SERVICE CENTER

CRESTLINE—Mrs. W. E. Lyman, as chairman of Pan American committee, and Mrs. E. G. Smith as chairman of Americanism committee, combined the two for a program at a recent meeting of the Legion auxiliary.

A talk on "Christmas In Mexico" was given by Mrs. Lyman who was dressed in a Mexican bride's costume and also had on display various articles from Mexico. Mrs. Pauline Wood read a Christmas poem and Mrs. Smith read an article on Pearl Harbor.

The group made a donation of $3.55 to be turned over to Crestline's service center, also $3.45 to be sent to the Xenia O. S. and S. O. home.

Mrs. Pauline Wood, chairman of the auxiliary service center, reported that $53.40 had been collected in Precinct A for the service center.

The annual Christmas party for the children will be held at St. Joseph's parish hall, Dec. 17, and the next regular meeting will be on Dec. 21.

In celebration of the 11th birthday anniversary of her son, Edward, Mrs. E. J. McCaffery entertained a group of his boy friends at her home Tuesday evening.

Edward returned home Monday from Bucyrus City hospital where he had been a patient receiving treatment for a fractured shoulder which he suffered while playing football.

The evening was spent in playing games. A large birthday cake centered the table when a luncheon was served. Edward received a number of gifts from his friends.

A paper on "Confirmation" was read by Agnes McMahon and she as president of the club presided for the meeting.

An exchange of gifts was held and when luncheon was served appointments were also in keeping with the season.

Hostesses for the Jan. 11 meeting will be Dorothy and Agnes McMahon.

SHELBY—Stop signs today had been erected at nine intersections in this city where traffic lights will be turned off from 10 p. m. to 7 a. m.

The stop traffic is on Smiley avenue at the intersections of North Gamble street and North Broadway; Smiley avenue at North Gamble street and North Broadway; Tucker avenue at South Gamble street; Mack avenue at Tucker avenue; Tucker avenue at Mansfield avenue; High School avenue and Seltzer avenue at Main street.

The traffic signal at High School avenue and Main street will operate only during the noon rush hour, 12 to shortly after 1 p. m.

DIES AT 31

BUCYRUS—James H. Roberts, 31, a purchasing agent for the U. S. Rubber company at Marion, died at City hospital Wednesday of pneumonia. He came to Bucyrus Oct. 1.

Surviving are his widow, Jane, and two children, Hilda and James, at home, 800 Rogers street. His step-sister, Mrs. Herbert Loewy, resides here also.

Funeral services will be conducted in Cincinnati and burial will be there.

TEACHER TELLS OF JAP CUSTOMS

Galion Instructor Formerly Taught In Japan; Speaks Before Hi-Y.

GALION—A former teacher in Japan, Miss Ollie Brick, told members of the Galion Hi-Y club of Japanese customs Wednesday afternoon at their meeting at the Senior high school.

Miss Brick, who is now a teacher at the high school, emphasized the Japs' stoicism, courtesy, ambition and self-control, and decried the American tendency to belittle them as warriors.

She explained that the American tendency to show prejudice to peoples of other countries has been used willfully by the Japanese who, in turn, exaggerate such American statements in order to further antagonize their people toward us.

Referring to Ambassador Joseph Grew's impressions of Japan as envoy from the United States, Miss Brick affirmed them from her own experience. Duane Kinnamon was in charge of the meeting, and Ralph Pollack, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

* * *

GALION—Mrs. R. M. Malone has been elected vice president of the Crawford county Medical auxiliary. Mrs. W. W. Corwin will serve as treasurer and Mrs. C. A. Marquart, of Crestline, is the newly-elected president.

BROTHERHOOD ELECTS

BUCYRUS — Members of St. John Evangelical and Reformed Brotherhood re-elected Ed Koch as president at the organization meeting Tuesday night at the church. Other officers named were George Heckler, vice president, and Franklin Gray, secretary-treasurer.

IN HOSPITAL

CRESTLINE—William Ferguson of the Y. M. C. A. was admitted to Emergency hospital Wednesday.

PARENTS OF SON

CRESTLINE — Mr. and Mrs. William Mills of 320 East Bucyrus street are the parents of a son born at Emergency hospital Wednesday.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

"Is that true," quizzed Tyger Tutor Vern Hoffman, "what you had in the paper about how big those Newark guys are?"

"Yes," I assured him, "every bit of it seems to be true—6-3, 6-2, 6-1—they're big guys all right."

"Well," hazarded Hoffman, "we may surprise 'em Friday night at that. We've got a pretty fair team of basketballers out here at the high school, and I believe we gained a lot better experience losing to the central district champions at Columbus South last week than Newark did winning an easy game from Columbus East.

"We may be just a bit ahead of them on experience as the result of what we learned a week ago."

* * *

Hoffman hopes he is solving the rebound problem with which he has struggled since cage practice began.

Doug Myers, sophomore, looked good as a sub against Columbus South, and Hoffman reports he is looking even better this week in practice.

"He gets in there and fights for the ball," Hoffman says, "and that's half the battle.

"And what's more he gets rid of the ball after he gets it. He doesn't try to hog the ball. He can pass, and does it."

* * *

The Canton Repository reports that McKinley's prospects of going through with the basketball season appear much brighter than a month ago when there was some talk of cancelling long road trips.

At present McKinley plans to fill those engagements, which includes one at Mansfield, according to the Canton paper.

But the "Rep" maintains that cancellation of trips to Mansfield, Warren, and East Liverpool would not detract from the Bulldog schedule since games could be booked with schools nearer home.

* * *

McKinley has another basketball powerhouse with grid stars Dale Haverstock, Ernie Parks Vic Wernet, Bill Cook and Earl Loucks, jr., forming a nucleous for the Bulldog squad.

These tall fellows, in the backfield on defense completely halted what aerial attack the Tyger gridders had this fall.

* * *

If the Tyger hoopsters can get a bit of revenge for that football massacre at the hands of the Bulldogs, it will be a successful season, regardless of the outcome of the rest of the games.

Bass Season Change Made

Closes Two Weeks Early In Southern Ohio.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The closed season on black bass will be two weeks earlier in southern Ohio next year but other fishing regulations will be substantially the same at 1942, according to tentative plans adopted by the state conservation commission.

The commission decided yesterday to split the state with respect to black bass seasons due to earlier spawning in the southern counties.

South of route 35 from the Indiana line to Chillicothe and south of route 50 to Athens and south of alternate route 50 (50 north) on to Marietta, the closed black bass season will be from April 15 to May 31, while the northern season from May 1 to June 15 will remain unchanged.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters predicted the tentative regulations would be adopted finally by the commission Jan. 15, when it meets again.

Other changes recommended include a four-inch mesh on turtle traps instead of six inches in current regulations; increase of the limit on trotline hooks used in inland waters from 30 to 50; and inclusion of suckers up to six inches under minnow regulations.

Closed seasons (dates inclusive): trout, Sept. 16-April 14; black bass, inland, southern zone, April 15-May 31; northern zone May 1-June 15; Lake Erie district, May 25-June 30; no closed season on other species.

Service Tilts Cut By Big Ten

Schedules Have Few Spots For Camp Teams.

By TOMMY DEVINE

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Mid-western service teams that found a powerful athletic ally in the Big Ten during the first war year, learned today that competition available to them during the 1943 football campaign would be reduced.

The step was taken yesterday by the Big Ten's faculty representatives as the conference officials concluded a two-day meeting.

Grid schedules of nine games for next fall originally were drafted two years ago. The faculty men voted to extend the schedule to 10 games with the extra contest being played against a service team.

No provision was made, however, for the complete revision of the schedule, such as was done last March when each conference school made room for two service games on its program. It was decided to fit the service games for next fall in "where possible" on the regular schedule.

Three choice opponents, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, already have nine games scheduled with the only open date available Nov. 27, the final Saturday of the season. Ohio State and Illinois now have eight opponents each with the first and last weeks open. Forming a representative schedule for one or more service teams under such conditions will be virtually impossible.

Lt. Cmdr. Russell Cook, athletic officer at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, said he had been asked to wait "until spring" before starting to work on negotiations with conference teams.

"I hope it finally is decided to completely revise the conference schedules as was done last season," Cook said, "it is the only way I feel that we could get a representative card."

Prof. Frank E. Richart of Illinois, secretary of the faculty representatives, did not believe that would be done, however.

* * *

"This schedule has been set for a long time," he said, "and I doubt if the directors will desire to tear it apart and start all over."

* * *

The slice in the over-all conference competition to be given service teams was traced by most observers to the bitterness which developed over officer personnel used on the Iowa Pre-Flight team this fall.

A proposal to permit the use of freshmen on varsity teams was tabled after the faculty men termed themselves "very sympathetic to the idea." They felt, however, this was not the proper time to act on the suggestion.

Barons Swamped By Hershey Bears

(By United Press)

Led by Hank Lauzon and Fred Hergert, the Hershey Bears continued to roll along at the top of the American Hockey league's eastern division Wednesday night with a 7 to 2 rout of the Cleveland Barons.

* * *

Leo Richard's overtime goal provided Washington's win after Trudel of the Lions and Mann of the Hornet's scored before him to keep it tied. Trudel of the Lions and Gracie had scored for Washington and Currie and Corrigan for Pittsburgh to send the game into an extra session.

* * *

Adam Brown's two third period goals gave Indianapolis its triumph over New Haven. The game had been tied at this point on two Indianapolis goals by Holota and tallied for New Haven by Mc Manus and Mancuso.

These Newark Wildcats Open Tyger Home Season Friday

Here are the Newark high school Wildcats who open Mansfield high's home basketball season tomorrow night when the Tygers will be out for revenge for a defeat suffered at Newark a year ago. Standing, left to right, Charles Sessor, Charles Hinger, Kenton (Dutch) Campbell, Vernon Williams, Eugene Pryor and Bill Bline. Kneeling, left to right, Jack Bickel, Paul Jackson, Fred Schaus, Roger Sedgwick, Ned Wells and Zelner Thomas. In center, drawing a diagram, is Coach Max Douglas.

Bee Gees Get 134 Points

Takes Double Victory Over Easy Opponents.

(By Associated Press)

Bowling Green State university's high scoring basketeers held an early lead today in Ohio's collegiate cage championship race.

The Bee-Gees kicked in 134 points against a pair of opponents in a twin bill at Bowling Green last night to give them a record of four victories and no defeats.

The Bee-Gees crushed Toledo Naval training school, 64 to 14, and shackled Hillsdale of Michigan, 70 to 38.

Freshman forward Wyndol Gray of Akron paced the Bee-Gees' nightcap attack with 12 buckets and four free throws for the best outstanding individual performance on last night's cage program involving 10 other Buckeye squads Gray didn't play in the opener.

Another guy named Gray—forward Robert Gray of Denison—went on a scoring spree, too, with 21 points as Denison's Big Red cagers downed Kenyon college 61 to 41 in a season-opener at Granville.

Forward Gerald Wibbeler of Ohio Northern's Polar Bears also tallied 21 as the Bears trounced Bluffton, 83 to 40 at Ada

The sharp shooting of forward Dick Lord staked Defiance to a 17-11 decision over visiting Findlay.

The University of Toledo beat Detroit Tech easily 44 to 29.

The University of Cincinnati won its second straight, a 52-40 triumph over Georgetown college of Kentucky.

The only team playing out of the state last night, Akron university edged St. Bonaventure at Olean, N. Y., 39-26.

JACK DOYLE DIES

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. —(U.P.)— The body of John T (Jack) Doyle, Broadway's 67-year-old "Wizard of Odds," was held at a Jacksonville funeral home today pending arrival of relatives. Doyle, New York's unofficial betting commissioner who was widely known for his price making on sporting events, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Day Retains 14-Point Lead

Buddy Bomar Boosts Edge On Other Keglers.

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Ned Day of West Falls, Wis., and Santa Monica, Calif., retained a 14 point lead today over Johnny Crimmins of Detroit at the end of 75 games in their 90-game bowling title match which will end tonight.

The champion gained more than a 16-point lead early last night after taking seven out of 10 games in the first two blocks, but he was caught off stride and soundly trimmed later by the challenger who took four out of five games in the third block.

At the end of 75 games, Day led with 33840 points to 32411 for Crimmins. The champion's game average was 197 15 compared with Crimmins' 193 39.

Buddy Bomar, Houston Tex., strengthened his lead ahead of the 99 other contestants in the competition for the 10 high pointers who will join with Crimmins and Day in rolling 72 games starting Friday and finishing Sunday, Dec. 13.

SAMMY BAUGH KEEPS PRO PUNTING TITLE

CHICAGO (AP) Sammy Baugh of Washington is the National Football league's punting champion for the third consecutive year.

League statistics gave Baugh the edge over Dean McAdams of Brooklyn although the two finished in a tie under the league's rating system. McAdams lost out on the basis of average distance per punt.

Baugh averaged 46 6 yards for 37 punts while McAdams had a 41 3 mark for 52 kicks. They tied for the longest punt of the season, 74 yards.

County Loop Opens Friday

Madison Tunes Up By Defeating Loudonville.

Richland county high school basketball teams begin firing away the hoops for keeps tomorrow night when four games will open the county league cage season.

* * *

In pre-league games, Madison Rams have loomed as favorites for the county title, with Ontario doped a close second, and Lucas listed as a long shot, although Lucas went into a scoring slump in the last half of a recent game against Ontario.

* * *

Tomorrow night Madison travels to Bellville Lexington goes to Shiloh, Butler plays at Ontario and Union at Lucas.

Madison turned up for the league opener last night with a 41-36 victory at Loudonville, inspired by Captain Billy Wynn's sensational shooting.

Wynn racked up 21 points during the evening on 10 buckets and one free toss, and collected 16 of those points in the first half.

* * *

Madison edged a 12-11 lead in the first quarter, stretched it to 28-23 at the half, and maintained the five-point margin, 35-30 at the third quarter.

* * *

Which means Madison outscored the Red Birds by only one point in the first period, four in the second and three in the fourth with the third even. It was a ball game all the way, and the difference in the win was Wynn.

City Leaguers Stage Thrills

Single Point Decides Both Opening Games.

It was thrill night as well as opening night in the Y. M. C. A. City basketball league Wednesday with both games decided by a single point, and one going into overtime play.

Early season sports goods championship went to Yuncker Sports in a 27-26 overtime victory over Mansfield Athletic supply, while Globe Steel edged the defending champion Westinghouse quintet 33-32.

* * *

Yes, it was a wild night of bucketball as the City leaguers pried off the seasonal lid.

Globe outpointed Westinghouse in only one of the four periods, but that 14-6 margin in the second quarter meant the ball game.

Westies took a 6-4 lead in the first quarter, but Globe came charging back to gain an 18-12 margin at the half. Westinghouse cut it down to 27-25 at the third quarter, but picked up only one more point as it outscored Globe 7-6 in the final stanza.

Hager, Globe center, took scoring honors with 12 points.

In the second game Yuncker's started out with an 11-6 lead at the quarter, only to be tied at the half, 15-15. Supplies went out in front in the third period 24-20, and Yuncker's knotted it up 26-26 in the fourth quarter.

Phillips won the game for Yuncker's with a free toss in the last five seconds of the overtime period.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Raw, bitter weather dries skin cells, leaves them "thirsty." Skin becomes raw—may crack and bleed. Canton Grid Fans Honor Bulldogs

CANTON —(UP)— The city is throwing the largest athletic banquet in its history tonight to honor Canton McKinley's football team—the eleven which ended the neighboring Massillon Tigers' seven-year reign as king of Ohio scholastic gridirons.

* * *

More than 600 appreciative fans are expected to pay tribute to McKinley's Bulldogs for handing the tough Tigers their first defeat in 52 football contests. The Bulldogs thumped Massillon 35-0 last Nov. 21.

The Bulldogs, beaten only by Steubenville, 21-13, and tied 0-0 by Canton Lincoln this year, had not defeated Massillon since 1934 when one of the school's greatest teams turned the trick 21-6. This year's defeat was Massillon's second in 80 games and fourth in 100 starts. This amazing record helped get Paul Brown the appointment as Ohio State university's grid coach after he had guided the Tigers for nine seasons.

WE'LL REMEMBER THIS CHRISTMAS!

Wartime Christmases live in the memory long after the happy, carefree ones are forgotten. For the shadow that war casts over every home, is intensified at this season.

We must not let the radiance of Christmas be dimmed. Joyous occasions like this are part of our way of life. And Christmas is one of the things we're fighting for.

There must be giving . . . generous giving, but no gift should be extravagant. For the Gift of Gifts, for all of us, is the Victory we are working for . . . and to achieve it, we're going to have to buy lots of War Bonds, however much we must sacrifice to buy them!

JAPS SECRETIVE ABOUT CAPTIVES

Hope To Injure U. S. Morale, General Tells House Naval Committee.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The army has no hope of obtaining from Japan a complete and accurate list of some 18,600 American prisoners taken at Bataan and Java, Maj. Gen. Jay L. Benedict, war department dependency board president, yesterday told the house naval committee.

"The Japs will not overlook any opportunity to injure our national morale," he said, and added that Japan had shown very little concern about obtaining lists of its own men taken captive.

Benedict and representatives of the navy appeared in behalf of a bill to extend the time in which families of missing men may receive cash allowances from the government. The committee approved the measure unanimously. The senate naval committee also has reported the legislation favorably.

Under present law, the general explained, allowances to families may be paid for only 12 months while a serviceman is classified as missing, at the end of which time a man must be declared dead for the dependents to receive further benefits.

FINED AFTER TRUCK MISHAP

ASHLAND — Frank J. Sattler, Lodi, R. D. 1, was fined $100 and costs Wednesday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Sattler, who also had his driving license suspended for one year, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by the county sheriff's department on U. S. route 42 east of Ashland after he had driven a milk tank truck into a ditch.

Anda Gainer of Canton, arrested in Mifflin Tuesday night after he had parked his automobile in the front yard of a resident of the village, was fined $5 and costs by Justice R. R. Teeter Wednesday on a charge of intoxication.

EVENING HOURS SCHEDULED FOR BLOOD DONORS IN CITY MONDAY

Early evening hours to accommodate blood donors unable to contribute at any other time have been set for Monday by the Cleveland mobile blood donor unit which makes the second of its successive monthly visits to Mansfield next week.

The Donation Center in Bethany House of First Presbyterian church will be open Monday from 3 p. m. to 7 p. m. and again Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. Donors signifying their intention of contributing on either of the two days are urgently requested by John H. Finefrock, blood donor chairman, to notify the executive office by Friday in the event they find it impossible to appear.

Last month valuable time was lost when some 70 persons who had indicated their willingness to serve did not appear nor did they notify the office. These persons have been notified again in connection with the coming visit of the mobile unit and if they do not respond will be dropped from the list, Finefrock said.

All persons called for donations next week have not been donors heretofore. Approximately 150 contributors are needed each day and to assure that number the blood donor committee has scheduled additional registrations to offset any shrinkage.

The Red Cross office at 11½ West Fourth street is open daily for blood donor applications and they will continue to be accepted in order to maintain the reservoir created to provide future donations.
